Clarks Green Man Killed In Car-Truck Accident

CLIFTON F. Fischer, 43, of 120 Maple Ave., Clarks Green, a retired printing executive, was instantly killed about 2 a.m. yesterday when his car hit a disabled trailer on Route 611, a mile and one-half north of Mount Pocono.

John C. F. Foelker, Monroe County coroner, said Fischer was instantly killed. He said the cause of death was multiple skull fractures. Fischer also had a fractured jaw and fractures of the nose and hands.

Pronounced Dead

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. E. O. Headrick of Mount Pocono and Foelker. State Police at Mount Pocono said Fischer was en route home from New York City where he attended investors' classes at Columbia University one day a week.

The driver of the tractor-trailer was identified as Harold Beatty, 42, Newton, N. J. He posted $2,000 bail at an arraignment before Mrs. Emma Merwin, Mount Pocono justice of the peace, on involuntary manslaughter charges and was released pending a further hearing before Mrs. Merwin. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

Troopers said the empty five-ton trailer of Beatty's unit broke loose from the tractor as he traveled south. The trailer, a type used for hauling livestock, slewed sideways to a stop across the three traffic lanes, blocking part of the road shoulders.

Waved A Warning

Beatty and other truck drivers were attempting to raise the front of the trailer on its dolly wheels when the Fischer car hit it. Other truckers were placing flares and an attmept was made to wave a warning to Fischer, who may have thought the warning was a hitchhiker's appeal for a ride.

A native of Scranton, Fischer was a son of Phillip and Mary Fischer, and had resided in Clarks Green four and one-half years. He retired last March as vice president and secretary of Keystone Printed Specialties Co., South Scranton.

He was a graduate of Central High School, Scranton, and Duke University, Durham, N.C. He was an Army veteran of World War 2 and before his affiliation with the Keystone firm was a meteorologist for Pan American Airways in Guatemala.

He was a member of the Scranton Club, Country Club of Scranton, the First Presbyterian Church, Clark's Summit, and the Masons, and was a former member of the Waynewood Association.

Survivors

Surviving are his wife, the former Alice Ferrey of St. Paul, Minn.; four brothers, Philip, of Scranton, president of the Keystone firm: Oscar, Moscow, a Scranton Times pressman; Monroe, Phoenix, Ariz., a former economics instructor at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Walter, an attorney in Clinton, Tenn.; a sister, Mrs. Samual H. Brader, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral will be from the home Monday with private services at the convenience of the family. Interment, Abington Hills Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Prepare To Evacuate Town

Gas Fumes Hospitalize 18

CORNWALL, Ont. (AP)—Deadly chlorine gas that escaped from a cracked railway tanker car sent 18 persons to the hospital Friday night, and officials prepared for mass evacuation of a heavily populated section of Cornwall.

Radio stations broadcast special bulletins to residents of northeastern Cornwall to prepare for evacuation at a minute's notice. Officials said the order would be given if winds shifted and pushed the deadly gas toward town.

The gas hung in a heavy yellow fog over a large area of the city's outskirts. Police had already evacuated a small area and sealed off the northeastern outskirts of Cornwall.

At least two of those felled by the gas were reported in serious condition and two others were placed in oxygen tents. Two hospitals here called in extra personnel to handle the emergency cases.

They said the gas is similar to that used with deadly effect against troops in France in World War I and can cause blindness, heart failure and asphyxiation.

Cornwall is a town of some 15,000 population on the St. Lawrence River about 55 miles southeast of Ottawa.

Police said an unidentified woman and her nine children in the second story of a house surrounded by the gas refused pleas to evacuate the dwelling.

Firemen who worked their way to the building wearing gas masks said the woman had told them the children were safer in the building which is only about 100 feet from the tank car. The second-story was well above the fog, which was hanging about seven feet above ground level.

The woman and her children would have had to run through about 50 yards of the heavier-than-air gas to reach safety, firemen said.

Doctors said most other victims were in satisfactory condition. They had been vomitting and coughing severely when admitted and had trouble breathing freely.

Police evacuated 30 families—about 100 persons—from their homes as gas seeped from the tanker and spread slowly across an area of eastern Cornwall.

The deadly fumes were first noticed coming from under the tank car in early evening. Firemen, hampered by dense fog, emptied the tank of the remaining gas.

They said, however, the spread of the fumes already released might force more evacuations. Police and firemen with gas masks cordoned off the area and closed nearby roads to traffic.

Authorities Recover Bodies

RENOVO, Pa. (AP) — Authorities have recovered the bodies of all nine victims of the Walter N. Brown family who were burned to death in a fire at their home Thursday.

Brown, his wife and seven of their 10 children lost their lives when the flames leveled their two-story frame dwelling in the nearby village of Keating.

State police are trying to determine the cause of the blaze.

Winston Churchill Celebrates Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill trudged to the window of his London home Friday to give a waiting crowd a broad boyish grin on his 88th birthday. The crowd, which had assembled in the dead-end street outside, answered with a rousing anniversary cheer.

Only a moment before the cheer there was an anxious gasp. For, through the window, the crowd saw Britain's great wartime leader stumble slightly as he made for the window. Independent as ever, he had insisted on walking unaided, though he appeared to be leaning heavily on a walking stick.

Earlier this year, the former prime minister fractured his hip when he fell in a Monte Carlo hotel room.

Before Sir Winston made his living room window appearance, he was visited for 15 minutes by his long-time friend and doctor, Lord Moran.

As Lord Moran left the Churchill home he told reporters: "I'm quite satisfied with the condition of the patient."

It was most apparent, however, that the anniversary found Sir Winston quite feeble.

A spokesman at his home said there was no plan for Sir Winston to visit his beloved House of Commons. On past anniversaries, he has appeared briefly in Parliament to receive the cheers of members of his own Conservative party and the Labor opposition.

Throughout the day, Lady Churchill stayed close to her husband.

Sir Winston invited members of his family and a few close friends to Friday night's family dinner. Sir Winston's secretary asked The Associated Press to distribute his thanks for the thousands of birthday messages.

His message said:

"I am most grateful to all those who have sent me good wishes on my birthday. I hope that you will accept this message of thanks as an expression of the pleasure you have given me and there are so many letters that I cannot answer them all personally.

"Winston S. Churchill."

Fog Hampers Rescue Vehicles

NEW YORK (AP) — A four-engine, propeller-driven Eastern Air Lines DC7 crashed and burned in dense fog while coming in for a landing Friday night at Idlewild Airport. At least 25 of 50 persons aboard were killed.

More than a score of survivors were accounted for.

The plane was Eastern's Flight 512 from Charlotte, N.C.

The airliner came down on Idlewild's north-south instrument runway. It hurtled off the concrete for some 200 yards and burst into flames.

The rear of the fuselage remained intact. However, the main section of the plane split and wreckage was strewn over a wide area. Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson reported from the airport:

"Remnants of the plane are strewn all over the scene."

Nevertheless, some of the survivors were able to walk away. Others were carried out on stretchers.

Soft sand, reeds and tall grass hampered the search for survivors. The heavy fog also slowed rescue vehicles to a crawl. They had to be guided across the airport by policemen on foot. Some lost their way.

Sixth In Eight Days

It was the sixth major airpane crash in eight days. Previous disasters beginning last Friday claimed 181 lives in the United States, West Africa, France, Brazil and Peru.

Idlewild was the scene of the nation's worst single plane disaster last March 1 when an American Airlines Boeing 707 jet crashed on takeoff and exploded in Jamaica Bay near the airport. All 95 persons aboard were killed.

Idlewild is about 12 miles from mid-Manhattan on the south shore of Long Island in Queens. It is exceptionally busy because many airlines have rerouted flights from La Guardia Airport to the north, where extensive renovations are under way.

The DC7 crashed about 10 p.m. EST.

The Fire Department quickly sent out a call for as many ambulances as possible. The first survivors were rushed about five miles to Peninsula General Hospital.

The dead were removed to a temporary morgue at the airport's police garage.

Two stewardesses aboard the plane were listed among the survivors. At the hospital, they appeared groggy but not badly hurt.

Airport observers described the fog as one of the heaviest at Idlewild since the field was opened in 1948.

In Manhattan it was a clear Indian summer night.

The fog apparently hung low over Idlewild, which lies amid swamps and Atlantic Ocean inlets.

Missing Ship Is Located; All's Well

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Nina II, replica of Columbus' third caravel, was found Friday groping her way across the Atlantic 750 miles east northeast of Puerto Rico.

She was 300 miles off the course from Spain set with her 15th century instruments—for Columbus' landfall in the Bahamas.

All aboard were reported well when Nina was spotted in the waves by a U.S. Navy patrol plane, which located the 40-foot caravel. The old style red cross on her mainsail and the cross and coat of arms on her bow identified her immediately.

Nina II, manned by a nine-man crew, has been at sea more than two months in an attempt to repeat Columbus' voyage of discovery in 1492 from Spain to San Salvador in the central Bahamas. Two weeks over due at its destination, the Nina II was the object of a widespread search since Sunday.

The plane dropped a radio—the Nina II, faithful to the 15th century original, has no radio, engine or other modern equipment. The Coast Guard said the ship promptly reported all aboard were "in good shape, with plenty of food and water," and planned to continue the voyage.

U Thant Elected UN Head

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly unanimously elected U Thant on Friday as secretary-general for an additional four years. In the works were boosts in pay and allowances that will bring the Burmese diplomat $70,500 a year in his post.

Delegates in the 110-nation assembly cast secret ballots ratifying an earlier unanimous recommendation by the Security Council that Thant's term be extended until Nov. 3, 1966, and the word "acting" dropped from his title.

Immediately after the vote the 53-year-old former schoolmaster-journalist was escorted from an office behind the podium to the assembly rostrum.

There assembly President Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan, a Moslem, greeted Thant, a Buddhist, and told him "it is for me a great joy" to be the first to offer congratulations on the election.

Applause rippled through the great blue and gold assembly hall.

Thant then addressed the assembly, reaffirming his oath of office.

Concern Stressed

He stressed his concern for resolving the United Nation's precarious financial situation and bringing an end to the Congo crisis.

Delegates paraded to the platform for speeches praising the secretary-general.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin reiterated formal support for the idea of a three-man executive representing the Communist, neutral and Western nations.

But he added that the Soviet Union recognized the need for resolving the leadership problem by "taking into account the qualities of Mr. Thant." He singled out specifically Thant's role in the Cuban crisis.

Thant, the third chief executive in the United Nation's 17-year history, was named acting secretary-general Nov. 3, 1961, after the death of Dag Hammarskjold, a Swede, in an African plane crash. The first secretary-general, Trygve Lie, now lives in his native Norway.

Boosts in pay and allowances for Thant were recommended by the U.N. Budgetary Committe, and are virtually certain to be approved by the assembly.

His salary was increased from $20,000 to $27,500 and his entertainment allowance from $20,000 to $22,500. In addition he gets $10,000 for house rent, $5,000 for servants, and was recently given a $3,500 cost-of-living adjustment. All is tax-free.

Housing Order Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soft words backed up by tough action —if words fail—were the pattern laid down Friday for enforcement of President Kennedy's order banning discrimination in federally financed housing.

The Federal Housing and Veterans administrations, which insure the construction loans on some 15 to 20 per cent of private homes, made public their regulations to implement the order for new homes.

Regulations of both agencies are similar.

Key Provision

A key provision said: "The conference arranged for discussing a violation shall be conducted in an informal manner and shall have as its primary objective the elimination of the discriminatory practice."

Both FHA Commissioner Neal J. Hardy and VA Benefits Director Philip N. Brownstein told a news conference strenuous efforts would be made to talk the lender or builder into selling to any person regardless of race.

$25,000 Tab Settlement Nears

AFL's Boss Foss Opens Door For Payment Of Titan's Bills

By BOB CLARK
Daily Record City Editor

THE AMERICAN Professional Football League has all intentions of paying off more than $25,000 in debts left in the Poconos last summer by the New York Titans.

This was practically assured yesterday when Joe Foss, commissioner of the AFL, indicated that Pocono creditors of the Titans could look forward to a settlement of bills run up by the Titans during their preseason training at East Stroudsburg State College.

Foss wrote Martin S. Baldwin, general manager of Olympic Reconditioning Company, Inc., East Stroudsburg, yesterday saying consideration of that firm's statement would get under way in the very near future.

Joe Foss

Reference To Bill

The commissioner's reply was in reference to a $1,902 bill owed by the Titans to Olympic, a company which reconditions athletic equipment.

Foss also asked Baldwin to inform other creditors to turn in their statements to league headquarters "to be sure consideration is given when a settlement is made."

Foss' statement also inferred that a sale of the Titans is near and that the new club owners would pick up (and pay) the debts of the New York club.

Other Creditors

Other local creditors which help round out the $25,000 in bills are East Stroudsburg State College (lodging and use of the field and gymnasium) Wood Food Service, Allentown (caterers at ESSC) Blue Bird Motel (Titans press headquarters and local office for team officials) and other firms which helped service the New York Club during its nearly two-month stay in the Poconos.

For the past several weeks reports have been given out at league headquarters and by Harry Wismer, president of the Titans, that the club would be sold. However, nothing concrete on this score was made public.

The Titans, aside its Pocono debts, reportedly owe the AFL close to $500,000 for player salaries. This news leaked out when checks paid Titan players were stopped by banks because of insufficient funds. Here the league stepped in and picked up the tab, insuring the players paychecks for the remainder of the season.

Well Going Dry

However, Foss has made it known that the league's well was going dry by picking up the debts of the Titans.

The following is Foss' message to Baldwin:

Mr. Martin S. Baldwin, General Manager
Olympic Reconditioning Company, Inc.
P. O. Box 205
East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Baldwin:

I am very aware of the bad public relations which are created by the failure to pay bills, as outlined in your kind letter of November 23, and I trust that very shortly the AFL will regain its good grace in the Stroudsburg area by a favorable settlement of the sale of the Titans.

I also appreciated receiving your statement in the amount of $1,902.38, and it will be placed in our file for immediate consideration after the sale is consummated. I hope you will suggest to other Titan creditors in that area to similarly file statements with this office to be sure that consideration is given when a settlement is made.

I am sorry that we had to correspond on such an unpleasant matter, but I am sure that the picture will be changed in the very near future.

Sincerely yours,

JOE FOSS
Commissioner

Pope John Feels Better; Walks Around

VATICAN CITY (AP) —Pope John XXIII, responding to treatment for stomach trouble and anemia, felt well enough Friday to get out of bed again and spend some time at his desk.

Vatican sources said the 81-year-old pontiff is being cautioned not to overexert himself.

But his doctor was quoted as saying: "As soon as he feels a bit better, he wants to get out of bed. It is difficult to keep him there."

Dr. Antonio Gasbarrini called at the apostolic palace Friday morning before issuance of a medical bulletin reporting: "The condition of the Holy Father is improving. The prescribed medical and dietary treatment is obtaining the hoped for results."

In addition to the stomach disorder that provoked an "intense anemia"—a blood deficiency—forcing him to take to his bed Tuesday, the aged ruler of the Roman Catholic Church has a prostate condition.

Vatican reports have been vague on the exact nature of the Pope's ailments. It is generally believed in Vatican circles that his stomach trouble is an ulcer—but there has been no official announcement.

Dr. Gasbarrini, 80, was quoted by a Milan paper Friday as saying in an interview about his famous patient's condition:

"Certainly he is prostatic. Everybody is at his age, including me. But there is absolutely no cancer."

The doctor also was quoted as denying surgery was planned.

Because of the possibly chronic nature of his afflictions, Pope John may have to limit his activities indefinitely.

The Church — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 16:15-17; 18:15-20; John 17:20-26; Acts 2:1-4, 38-47; I Corinthians 11:23-26; 12:12, 13, 27-31; Ephesians 2:11-22.

The church is a communion of those believing in Christ as the Son of God, and united with Him and each other by the Holy Spirit. Among its many practical functions, Christ said, was a disciplining action.—Matthew 18: 15-20.

On the night of His betrayal, Christ prayed for the unity of members of His church, "even as Thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be in Us." This was to be a unity in spirit, not in talents.—John 17:20-21; I Cor. 12:27-31.

Characteristic of the early church were self-denial and communal living. "And all who believed were together and had all things in common; and they sold their possessions and goods and distributed them to all, as any had need."—Acts 2:44-45.

Also on the night of His betrayal, Christ instituted the sacrament of Communion, breaking bread for His disciples and offering the cup, "in remembrance of Me."—I Corinthians 11:23-26.

GOLDEN TEXT: I Peter 2:9.

Today's Lesson: The Church

By N. SPEER JONES

THE Greek Word for church — ekklesia — originally meant a public assembly summoned by a herald. In the Greek text of the Old Testament it refers to an assembly of the Israelites. In the New Testament its meaning is the one common today, all those gathered together by their faith in Christ, knit together and in Him through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Christ Himself refers to the church only twice in our records of His public ministry. These are in the assigned passages from Matthew.

In the first, if the passage is logically continued to include verse 18, the relationship of the church to Christ is illumined. The key piece of the church is the fact that Christ is the Son of God. The building of this church will be done by Christ Himself. Death will have no effect on its existence or power.

In the other one of Christ's statements about the church, one of its most important practical functions, that of discipline, is stressed. The church's role here is not to take the first action, but the third. The first course of action regarding a sin is to be a personal attempt to work things out between the sinner and the one sinned against. If that doesn't work, a couple of others are to be called in. Only then is the grievance to be taken before the others in the church; if the fault is not mended, the church group carries through its discipline by considering the person as an outsider.

A second important aspect of the church is pointed out in this passage — it can be present anywhere, regardless of setting or circumstances, wherever "two or three are gathered in (Christ's) name."

The chapter from which our reference from John is taken is devoted entirely to Christ's important prayer to His Father on the night of His betrayal. Most of this is devoted to the other members of His church. Among the things He asks is a unity among His believers. This unity takes the form of mutual love, patterned on the unity of the Father and Son.

This unity is elaborated in the passage from Ephesians. There Paul makes it emphatic that both Jews and Gentiles can be one in Christ, joined in a temple in the Lord Himself.

Yet, although we are a unity, we must recognize the beauty of our varying gifts; we are not, and should not try to be, the same in anything except our love of God and Christ. Paul dwells on this point at length in our passages from Corinthians.

The actual birth of the church is recorded in Acts 2:1-4. Not only is the church a spiritual entity rooted in Christ's Sonship, but the very creation of His church is a divine act. With a mighty sound and sight, the disciples were suddenly invested with the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost. This gift of the Holy Spirit to the disciples was much the same as the descent of the Holy Spirit to Christ at His baptism.

Verses 38-41 deal with the first converts to the church. Verses 42-47 deal with some of its early characteristics, and the passage from the 11th chapter of first Corinthians elaborates on the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Parson To Parson

By ROD G. MacLEOD

WE ALL want to be remembered in some way or another. Some donate stained glass windows to a church engraved with "In Memory of", others donate a plaque or an entire room with the loved one's name deeply etched for all time. Always the perpetual drive to have our names remembered.

The cost of such memorials often run well into the thousands of dollars. These projects are for the main part most beneficial to the local church concerned, and the relatives are satisfied that the family name will endure on display for eons to come.

Sometimes, one comes across a project that is too ambitious for the good it can do. A memorial that is just pretty to behold without any functional purpose is to me a "show-off of ego".

On vacation, or just plain sightseeing, I often come across some expensive pieces of rock with a name that long since has lost any meaning even to local residents. True, the name is still there — but IT HAS NO MEANING!

Would it not be a more fitting way to remember a loved one to give the money one would have spent on a gigantic rock to do the work of the Lord? One may be dead to the world but still live on in the hearts of the many people helped.

A name that can live on, and be blessed by living people is a far, far better memorial than a scratched name in stone that is not even remembered or have any meaning to the living!

One thousand dollars will put a missionary into the field for a whole year! A thousand dollars will feed thousands of hungry people in the world through the CARE program. Scholarships — through your generosity — can be set up to educate Christian workers so that they may be active in the work.

Christianity is helping others. It is not furthered by glorification of an ego that is of no help to others. A living memory of a loved one is in accordance with a living faith.

Lutherans Told Of New Trust

BUCK HILL FALLS — A turning point in missionary activity has been reached by "older church" nations and bold, new approaches are now needed, a World Council of Churches leader and two other authorities declared here at the annual meeting of the Lutheran Foreign Missions Conference of North America.

In their discussion papers, each of the three speakers underscored the need for establishment of a new mission thrust, to be carried out in partnership with the younger churches in rapidly-changing lands.

The Rt. Rev. Lesslie Newbigin, director of the Department of World Mission and Evangelism of the WCC, called for acceptance of a new mission philosophy based on joint church action and in recognition of the entire world as a mission field.

Dr. R. Pierce Beaver, professor of missions at the University of Chicago Divinity School, cited the present as "a new age for pioneering" in mission work, and Dr. William J. Danker, professor at the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod's Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., suggested projection of church mission effort into areas of economic activity.

About 60 delegates from LFMC participating groups gathered here on Nov. 26 - 27 to hear and discuss the study papers. The missions organization is a forum supported by some 20 Lutheran church body mission boards and independent societies which meet annually to air missionary policies and problems.

The group elected Dr. Herman A. Koppelmann, St. Louis, executive secretary of the Missouri Synod Board of World Missions, as its president for the coming year. He succeeds Dr. Earl S. Erb, New York, executive director of the Lutheran Church in America's Board of World Missions, who has held the post for the last four years.

Other new officers are the Rev. Lester Dahlen, Minneapolis, Minn., executive director of the Division of Foreign Missions of the Lutheran Free Church, vice president; and Mr. John V. Lindholm, treasurer of the LCA world missions board, treasurer.

The Rev. Donald E. Trued, New York, secretary of the National Lutheran Council's Department of World Missions Cooperation, was named executive secretary.

In Our Sunday Schools

Teenage Teacher

By JAMES D. SHAFER
Daily Record Reporter

GRADUATION is just around the corner, and with her eye set on medical training with the Air Force, and a desire to continue teaching a Sunday school class where ever she goes is our Teenage Sunday School teacher, Miss Joyce Miller.

Joyce is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Custard, Craigs Meadow, and Harold Miller, East Stroudsburg. She has three and one-half years of teaching experience and hopes to continue teaching as long as she can.

"I have only been teaching one and a half years," she said with a modest smile on her face, "but before I became a study teacher in our Sunday school I was a substitute for two years."

She continued, "I gained a great deal of knowledge during those two years and have been using some of it when I meet with my class on Sundays."

Joyce teaches the age group from six to eight, inclusive, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Craigs Meadow. This is the age group in grades one through three in the public schools.

When asked why she decided to teach again she smiled and said, "I like working with children. After I began teaching I was most thankful of my decision. I doubt if there is a greater reward, here on earth, than to see the smiling face of a child after you have told him something about a subject he is interested in."

She continued, "I believe most children want to know about God, the Bible, people in the Bible, and what they did. This makes my job easy."

Joyce is a senior in East Stroudsburg Area Senior High School and expects to enlist in the United States Air Force for assignment in a medical school.

She looks forward to the day when she will be ready for marriage and to rear her own family. She also lives in hopes that when this day comes she will be able to teach her children in her class in a Sunday school, wherever it may be.

Miss Harriet Pease Is Guest Speaker

Harriet Pease

FOR TWO years Miss Harriet Pease, a missionary from Japan, felt that she was as busy as the "old lady who lived in a shoe." This comparison was caused by the fact that Miss Pease, who will be guest speaker at Beakleyville Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg on Sunday at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. was responsible for the care of over 20 children.

The children Miss Pease cared for were the daughters of missionaries to Japan. As girls' house mother, she tried to be both mother and father for the youngsters who were boarding away from the Japan Christian academy in home while attending school at Tokyo, a school for missionaries' children.

When she was relieved of her duties at the school, Miss Pease moved to northern Japan, where she did evangelistic work. She held Bible classes for groups of Christians, and met with women's groups in their homes to present the Christian message to them. She also held classes for high school and college students who were eager to improve their knowledge of English. Since they used the Bible in their study, this was also a method of introducing them to Christ.

Missionary From India To Be Guest Speaker

Elizabeth Walton

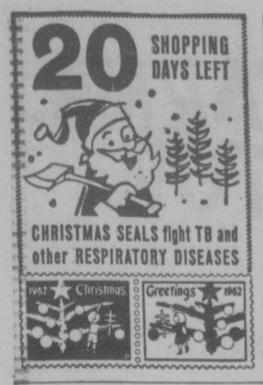

THE patients who came to a leprosy clinic established by Miss Elizabeth Walton in India were so eager to have the clinic continue that they collected money from themselves to help pay clinic expenses. Miss Walton, a missionary from India, will be guest speaker at Zion United Church Of Christ Church School on Sunday at 9:45 a.m.

Miss Walton began the leprosy clinic in Chandur Bazar 10 years ago. At that time 75 patients came to receive medication for their illness. When the clinic had to discontinue because seasonal rains made the roads impassable, the patients collected money to pay for extra gas needed to get to Chandur Bazar by an all-weather road.

Her headquarters were at the Kothara leprosy home and hospital which has been aided substantially by American Leprosy Missions, Inc. since 1946. It is this later mission which is supported by the congregation holding this special program.

Later, the patients paid the rent for a room in which to hold the clinic and then collected money to help erect a clinic building. At the time that Miss Walton left India for furlough, between 500 and 750 patients were getting treatment at the Chandur Bazar clinic. Miss Walton also directs two other outpatient clinics for leprosy victims, treating from 1500-2000 patients in all three.

Ex-School Board Aides Sentenced

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Two former officials of the Bristol Township school board were sentenced Friday to 30 days to one year each in prison for trying to sell school principalships.

The two, Louis A. Alimenti, 46, former board president, and Nicholas DeMara, 48, former vice president also were ordered to pay $100 fines each. They pleaded guilty last Monday.

Alimenti and DeMara admitted receiving a total of $1,600 last July from two elementary school teachers in return for a promise to get principalships for which they applied. They pleaded guilty to bribery under the state school code.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite in passing sentence in Bucks County Court said that although the men suffered through the notoriety given the case, he felt an example should be made to the public.

Alimenti and DeMara, after pleading guilty, implicated three other board members who had been cleared at a Justice of the Peace hearing last August 23 of similar charges. As a result, the others were rearrested and released under $1,500 bail. They are John R. Stieber, 47; John K. Hess, 39, and Mrs. Angela Blatt, 43, all of Levittown, Pa.

Unemployment Rises In State

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's rate of unemployment increased from 6.9 per cent in mid-October to 7.4 per cent of the civilian work force in mid-November, it was reported Friday.

The state Labor and Industry Department released statistics which show that unemployment in Pennsylvania in mid-November numbered 342,000 — a 24,000 increase over the previous month.

Labor Secretary A. Allen Sulcowe noted, however, this was the lowest November unemployment figure since November, 1957, when the jobless total was 320,000 —or 6.8 per cent of the work force.

Sulcowe attributed the current increase to seasonal layoffs in the construction, agriculture and primary metals industries.

Fire Causes Damage In Eastburg

FIRE caused by a faulty oil burner caused smoke damage in the boiler room of an apartment building owned by A. M. Price at 296 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, about 8:15 a.m. yesterday.

The blaze was discovered by employes of Firestone Stores, 308 Washington St., who used dry powder extinguishers to control the flames until Acme Hose Co. No. 1 reached the scene.

Halted By Firemen

Firemen prevented the blaze from reaching an adjoining room in which a quantity of tires owned by Firestone are stored.

Chief Herman F. Meinhart said a leak in the burner's oil line saturated the floor and caused a backfire when the furnace ignited.

Fire Chief Meinhart said last night, "The oil burner misfired igniting an accumulation of oil on the floor that had leaked from the filter in the oil line."

He praised the employes of Firestone Stores for their work in keeping the fire down until firemen arrived. He said, "They discharged two dry powder extinguishers on the blaze which was responsible for keeping the fire down until we arrived."

Firemen remained on the scene for one hour and 15 minutes and then returned to the firehouse.

Antlered Deer Season Opens In Poconos, State Monday

APPROXIMATELY 5,000 hunters are expected to invade the Pocono Mountains over the weekend in preparation for the antlered deer season which begins at 7 a.m. Monday.

Area game protectors predict a big kill since deer herds are heavy and hunters annually flock to this area during the two-week season.

Blatt Holds Slim Lead Over Kelly

HARRISBURG (AP) — Democrat Genevieve Blatt continued to cling Friday to a narrow edge in her bid for re-election as Pennsylvania's secretary of internal affairs.

However, Miss Blatt's margin of 1,337 votes over Republican Audrey Kelly, encompasses certified figures from only 60 of the state's 67 counties.

Missing counties are Allegheny, Fulton, Cameron, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Montgomery and Somerset. The deadline for turning in official figures from the Nov. 6 election was Nov. 26, but there is no penalty for noncompliance.

Bill Polaski, director of the elections bureau, said that two of the missing counties — Montgomery and Lackawanna—probably won't be completed until late next week because of impounded ballots.

Official returns of the 60 counties and unofficial figures from the other seven give Miss Blatt a 2,157,790 to 2,156,453 lead.

Property Removal Prohibited

SCRANTON — Bankruptcy referee Thomas C. Gibbons has issued an order prohibiting removal of mink pelts or other property from Mountain Peak Mink Corp., a Mount Pocono firm which has asked to reorganize under the Bankruptcy Act.

The order by Attorney Gibbons, acting as special master, named Stanley Berenfeld and Kenneth Sylk and the National Fur Breeders, Inc., as defendants.

Sylk, mortgagee of the property is alleged to have taken possession and threatened foreclosure.

A trustee, Benjamin J. Williams, Stroudsburg, has been named by Federal Judge Frederick V. Follmer. He is scheduled to post $75,000 bond before assuming guardianship of the property.

Atty. Albert H. Aston, counsel for the trustee, asked for the order prohibiting removal of property. According to the papers filed, many pelts were being taken off the property.

Louis Dachis, owner and operator of the farm, took court action to reorganize because he has been unable to meet obligations when they fall due. The mink farm reportedly is valued at $250,000. Dachis is represented by Atty. Philip H. Williams, Stroudsburg, formerly of Scranton.

Supermarket Employes Paid In Silver Dollars

EMPLOYES of the Giant Market in the Stroud Shopping Center received their weekly pay in silver dollars Thursday as the chain of markets began the observance of its 30th anniversary next month.

The firm announced a $50,000 Silver Dollar 30th anniversary sweepstakes in which all participants will receive Top Value stamps. About 150 baskets of groceries and thousands of silver dollars will be awarded.

Starting yesterday, leaflets describing the promotion were distributed to the public at stores affiliated with the chain. The sweepstakes will start next Wednesday and continue for eight weeks.

The $50,000 promotion is based on "lucky letters" that will be given out at each Giant or Giant-Big Chief Markets for the asking. No purchase is necessary.

The "lucky letters" can be used to spell out three slogans: "Giant Pride," worth one silver dollar; "Top Value," worth five silver dollars, and "For Thrifty People," worth 100 silver dollars.

But that's only part of it. Attached to each "lucky letter" is a coupon. This coupon will be filled out and deposited at one of the markets. Then, every week for eight weeks on Saturday night, a drawing will be held at each market and a free grocery order will be awarded. At the end of the eight weeks of drawings, all coupons from all stores will be put together in one pile and a grand prize winner selected. The grand prize is a year's supply of groceries valued at $1,300. This grand prize drawing is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 8.

There's still more. Each of the "lucky letters" is worth five Top Value Stamps when turned in at one of the stores whether or not they spell out one of the slogans.

The chain will stop giving out the "lucky letters" on Jan. 26. But they may be redeemed until Feb. 3 after which they will be void.

What's Growing

According to the Labor Department, real purchasing power per family in the United States is rising rapidly and in seven large cities showed a gain of from 20 to 40 percent from 1947-50 to 1960-61.

This is in line with the long-term trend, which indicates per capita living standards increase at about two percent annually.

Nevertheless, this gratifying gain over the past has been accompanied by a rising trend in the proportion of our productive resources — manpower and facilities — which remain unutilized. Otherwise, the rise in living standards would have been greater.

Why has this developed? Is it because "demand" has been insufficient to keep our economy operating close to capacity? Should we try to bolster demand by raising consumer incomes and increasing government spending?

In the light of what has actually occurred during the period it is hard to take this approach seriously. This table shows the percentage increase, over the period 1947-50 to 1960-61:

|---|---|
| Consumer incomes after tax | + 88% |
| Consumer expenditures | + 85 |
| Government expenditures | +166 |
| Profits after tax | + 19 |
| Business investment in plant and equipment | + 70 |

Consumer incomes, consumer spending and government spending have shown big increases. What has fallen behind is business profits and investment in new plant and equipment.

The one-sided emphasis on "demand" neglects the fact that no economic activity will occur in response to demand unless it is possible to earn sufficiently attractive profits in satisfying that demand.

Qualified observers blame the profit squeeze primarily on two factors—the income tax rate structure, and the steady rise of wage costs in response to irresistible labor union pressures. Bills to reduce the crippling tax rates and outlaw labor union monopolies are sure to come before the new Congress. Only legislation can remedy these drags on growth.

Opinions Of Other Editors

New Man And Old Debate

In its August issue "Science," the publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, called the U. S. Office of Education the "most unloved, abused and timid of all federal agencies."

There's a great deal of truth in this, which is probably the main reason the Kennedy Administration took so long finding a man who would qualify to head up the office and who also would want to head it up.

Now, three months after the departure of Sterling M. McMurrin, the White House has found such a man to succeed him as Commissioner of Education. He is Francis Keppel, professor of education at Harvard. He is regarded as a truly educated man who also is familiar with the world of public education, and he should fill the post admirably.

Still, there remains a big dispute on the nature of the job itself. Should it stay unchanged, which is to say largely powerless? Or should it be raised in status, perhaps all the way to a Cabinet post, as some people, including Mr. McMurrin, have advocated?

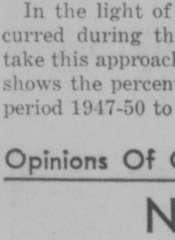

All this is part of a large debate over the federal role in education. Those who fear encroachment in the schools by Uncle Sam tend to oppose extension of the Commissioners duties. Those who want a bigger federal role tend to favor upgrading the commissioner's job. And as the two sides debate, the unfortunate commissioner is sometimes accused of empire building and sometimes blamed for not doing enough.

Certainly, some change is needed to coordinate federal spending in education. The Office of Education this fiscal year will administer the spending of $661 million for several well-known programs, including the 1958 National Defense Education Act, the vocational education grants in aid and, not least, aid to federally impacted areas. But it has nothing to say about nearly $2 billion more that other federal agencies channel into educational institutions. These include the big National Science Foundation, the Defense Department's overseas schools and the Agriculture Department's school-lunch program.

Over and above this, there is reason to believe the Office of Education should be more a source of education leadership and policy-making than it has in the past.

Just how much more is debatable, and for a time, at least, it will be enough to wait for Mr. Keppel to express an opinion on the Commissioner's role.

What Is Accounting?

One of the most interesting colloquies held before a Congressional committee in a long time has to do with accounting procedures. The case has to do with Billie Sol Estes which involves many questions of accountancy.

Why did the government accountants not catch on to what was going on? In private enterprise, why is it so often that when cases come into court, particularly when stockholders sue management for malfeasance or misfeasance, so much time is spent discovering why the accountant's reports do not precisely reflect the condition of the business?

There is no question in this discussion as to the ability or honesty of the accountants. The inquiry is into techniques, particularly preventive techniques, that is, where an accountant can foresee an error and fails to call attention to it because the error has not yet been completed. Mr. Harrill, the Department of Agriculture accountant, said:

"If we find an office where they are not able to sit down and discuss the findings with us, and, if you want to call it that, argue with us and justify their points or attempt to justify them, that, in itself, is a major finding, and if anything disturbs an auditor, it is that. . . They may talk us out of some cases, justifiably so. That happens all the time. We don't try to stick to something just because we found it."

In private enterprise, the issue is whether the accountant is protecting the stockholders or protecting management. This is particularly true in an analysis of inventory, when an accountant is willing to take management's figures until the business is so loaded down with inventory that it has to take a "bath".

This can run into huge losses which involve "write-offs" to the detriment of the stockholder. Proper accounting would surely protect the owners of the property, the stockholders, against management which has a vested interest in covering up errors. But it is management which engages the accountants.

Now, let me indicate the manner of thinking of a "numbers man":

"If the Billie Sol Estes case hadn't popped the way it did, and we had been able to wait until after the fact, made our audit, submitted a report, recommendations for this, that or something else, maybe an investigation, maybe a recommendation for a decision by General Counsel, or several other things, if that had been able to go on through to the State office, back into Washington and to the operating people, and if we had received a reply to that report indicating the action, I am referring to that as the maximum, from zero to maximum.

"The other point is we stopped this work as of a certain date. Our files today show an imcomplete situation."

In a word, whatever Billie Sol Estes was doing was "an incomplete situation" to the audit office. In private industry, a company can lose huge sums while the accountants keep the situation incomplete.

Why do they not report that we cannot make an honest report because we cannot find honest figures? That would probably be an admission of incompetence. How long is it necessary to wait for a crooked situation to disclose itself? At what point does ordinary auditing cease and policing begin?

The defense against an incomplete audit, if translated into police activity, would be like saying that a man must first jump off the 68th floor of the Empire State Building before any steps can be taken to prevent him from taking the plunge.

Perhaps the theory is that if he is dope enough to want to kill himself, he should be allowed to. On the other hand, suppose he kills half a dozen people in the process, who is to blame? When a firm of accountants permits the stockholders to lose their money because of a difference of opinion between the accountants and management, the accountants wait "until after the fact." This explains the recent "shlock"" market in Wall Street.

The probability is that accountants should be made responsible for all errors and omissions. The argument against that is that it would cost too much to discover whether an inventory was marked up, let us say, 100 percent to affect net worth.

On the other hand, it costs a great deal more when many lose their money when the amounts are accepted by a public accountant on the say-so of management. A bit of moral policing can hurt nobody.

The Billie Sol Estes investigation before the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations provides food for thought.

U. S. Men Like Women Dumb Gloria Swanson Says

NASHVILLE (AP) — The trouble with American men, said ageless actress Gloria Swanson, is that they like their women on the dumb side.

"American men are terrified of a bright woman," said the stage and screen star.

Miss Swanson, whose beauty has been charming men since silent screen days, said European men prize the beauty of a woman's mind.

The glamorous grandmother (of seven) blames a ridiculously distorted ego for the attitude of the American male. "They want us to be restricted to inane chit-chat about the club, the children," she said.

WHY GIVE THANKS?

What have we to be thankful for?
Why, for the very
air we breathe;
For close-knit families
and kindly folk,
And the creed in which we believe.

What have we to be grateful for?
Dear Gram who prepares
the big meal;
She seasons the goodies
we ably consume,
And lightens the day

What have we to be
appreciative for?
The turkey with stuffing
and hot-cross buns;
For Gramps who carves
the holiday fowl,
And sets the gay mood
with his puns.

What have we to give praises for?
There's the warmth of the gay fireside,
Which we gather around
when the feast is o'er,
And discuss where our fortunes abide.

What have we to thank God above for?
Our nation, its liberty
hand-wrought,
Where we cherish schools
and temples of God,
And thrive in freedom of thought.

We can smile and rejoice
Thanksgiving day,
For the God of the whole human race;
Who showers us all with blessings of cheer,
Let's return His favors
with grace!

THANKSGIVING RECOUNT

Mid a bleak and lonely winter,
Sailed a band of
hardy men,
To gain freedom
of worship,
In the house of God again.

and homeland,
For a haven across the sea,
Whose beacon light
of freedom,
Hailed them on bended knee.

Then landed on a rock-bound shore,
The Pilgrims, called by name,
Who worked and prayed
to God above,
Spreading America's infant fame.

Later when hot summer
had ended,
They invited friendly
Indian braves,
To share God's bountiful harvest,
Round a table filled with praise.

Let us remember these brave settlers,
Who held their ideals
at a price,
Giving thanks in a week
of Thanksgiving,
To God and His Son,
Jesus Christ.

Let's lift our hearts
this Thanksgiving,
Praising our dear
Maker above,
That we're living in a democratic nation,
Sharing with each other
God's love.

School Directors' Dilemma; General Election Blues

Chides Fellow Republicans

(Editor's Note: In the following letter, Mrs. Fontanella vents her views on the recent General Election results in Monroe County and Pennsylvania. In one portion, questions how The Daily Record would have written the story of a subsequent school board action against one of the candidates, if he had been successful rather than defeated. The answer is: Exactly as it was written and appeared. The Daily Record does not editorialize in any manner in reporting the news, but prints it as it is recorded in public records of such actions.)

Editor, The Daily Record:

The letter to you headed "Voice of the People" published Saturday, Nov. 24 states, "Here in Monroe County Gerald Snyder no doubt could have beaten Van Yetter if he had campaigned solely on the school reorganization issue."

On Saturday before election one of the most informative broadcasts of the past campaign was conducted from our own radio station WVPO by Gerald A. Snyder and Sen. William Z. Scott - a program devoted solely to the school reorganization bill No. 561.

Gerald Snyder could have beaten Van Yetter if he had received 200 additional votes; or, Mr. Snyder could have won if 200 of the voting populace had voted FOR him instead of AGAINST him.

But, Mr. Snyder has many faults. (I do not know if Mr. Yetter has any faults, so I will confine my letter to things I know).

Mr. Snyder is young, good-looking, intelligent, a high school and a college graduate, a devoted father and loving husband, a faithful church member, and a zealous citizen wanting to serve his country (he did during World War II) and his county. (For the record, these can really be handicaps!)

Several years ago Mr. Snyder had the audacity (some "squares" call it courage) to run for the office of Republican county chairman against an experienced politician (a politician who has stated publicly - more than once - that he intended to "bow out" of the chairmanship. . . this gentleman later changed his mind.)

Mr. Snyder won the chairmanship, but then he proceeded to be so stupid as to be in an automobile accident; and, more than that, receive extremely painful injuries, MOST stupid! Realizing that he was limited in movement because of the injury . . . instead of quitting his teaching job and giving up the role of family provider he foolishly chose to relinquish his role of county chairman! Friends urged him to "hang on" as chairman assuring him of their support; he attempted to for a while, but then resolved his first decision had been the right one, so he resigned.

It should also be stated that during his 20s he took on a couple of jobs that did not "pan out" . . . those "in the know" feel that youth should positively stick to everything it starts. . . whether suited for it or not.

Months before the primaries of '62 Mr. Snyder asked the county committee if he could be a candidate for assemblyman. I was not present at that meeting, but I understand he was refused. Then, both Mr. Snyder and Jack Mullins came out publicly seeking nomination. Mr. Mullins (being somewhere over 21) changed his mind and in his place Parke Unangst personally endorsed Clifford Heller; this would imply that Mr. Unangst changed his mind somewhere along the line - tho' he too is past 21.

Again, Mr. Snyder showed his true self by working so hard (how stupid can you be!?!) that he defeated Mr. Heller in the primaries. . . Next, Mr. Snyder proved his shallow interest in the Republican Party by being at the courthouse on June 14 waiting for the outcome of the first Republican convention held to elect a county chairman (heretofore always voted on by the citizens of Monroe County) and getting the first-hand, immediate reactions of a distraught and incredulous majority group of committeemen and committeewomen (to this I can personally testify!) who had been refused voice in their own convention by the incumbent county chairman!

Later, when the same Mr. Unangst helped circulate a letter negatively written about Mr. Snyder (a copy of letter handed to me in downtown Stroudsburg) an arrest was made. Youthfully, Mr. Snyder felt that he had inherited a good name and that a "good name is rather to be chosen than great riches. . ." (a brief quote credited to Solomon in Proverbs 22:1).

Also, there was the much publicized meeting in another county regarding a picture with Rep. Scranton; again, Mr. Snyder behaved very badly — he didn't get angry or vengeful, he didn't say the wrong thing, he just "took it like a man." (Very considerate of Mr. Snyder; it is evidently most frustrating to one's adversaries when one is too good!) (and, silly me, I keep wondering who got to Mr. Scranton with what in the first place to cause the initial reaction?)

Could Mr. Snyder have won in Monroe County had he campaigned solely on Bill 561?

Maybe in Centre, York or Allegheny Counties. . . but, oh my dear Editor and Mr. Hutchinson NOT in Monroe County . . . ! Not unless I, as a committeewoman in Paradise Township, had worked just a little harder; or, a lot of oldsters who have forgotten that it is no sin to change one's mind had given help instead of hurt; or, if the voice for truth had been louder than the one for blame.

I agree with Mr. Hutchinson that the "voice of the people was heard at the polls" . . . but there were many voices; and even silence can often be louder than words.

There was the voice of an opponent that remained cautiously silent; for he was wise enough to know his own voice could neither match the timbre nor word power of Mr. Snyder. The voice of an opponent quiet until there was no possible chance for rebuttal; his voice, until the very last moments, only heard among those of his own kind.

A 199 majority for a public office in a Democratic County! No great victory . . . this.

So close, it also makes one wonder how the story in our Record would have been written about the "Belvidere Board Demotes Snyder" if Mr. Snyder had won. One of the reasons given for the school board's decision was based on the Cuban situation (page three, Nov. 24), and yet, what more glorious way to set the sights of youth toward their ultimate civic duty than to run for public office!?

I do not take issue with the school board's decision. . . there are too many unknown facts and factors; but neither can I stop wondering what impact this story would have had on Monroe Countians had Mr. Snyder been riding the donkey instead of the elephant? Or, what difference in the verdict if after six years of service, Mr. Snyder had "borrowed" a friend's car and gone off on a pleasure jaunt instead of campaigning for public office?

Mr. Clark in his column next door to "The Voice of the People" asks, "What is the school reorganization plan?"

Isn't that a question for the Assemblyman?

I ask, "WHAT is the TRUTH?" "WHERE are our values?"

"WHY, if we are not thoroughbred Republicans or 100 percent Democrats don't we be truthful and re-register as independents or non-partisan?" and cut out these shenanigans! Being so all-fired proud to split our ticket!

"HOW do we as adults expect to impress the youth of America that we have brains when the voting result shows we respond like morons?"

WHAT do I mean? I mean this! . . . We voted for Mr. Scranton on the one hand . . . complimented him; and slapped his face on the other! He stood here in Monroe County and asked us to vote for his Republican partners, candidates who when in office could help him do a job!

Whom are we kidding? Even President Kennedy threw his weight into this past campaign on this very issue! He knows, as does William W. Scranton, no one person can do a job by themselves!

And yet, re-reading my own letter, maybe I'm glad Mr. Snyder didn't win . . . his major sins add up to goodness. Somehow, some way . . . even in this life we get what we deserve!

"Ask and ye shall receive". . . the Master taught; perhaps the questions are answered. . . we asked for it!

Mary E. Fontanella
Republican Committeewoman, Paradise Township of Monroe County, Pa.

P.S. I DARE the readers of this letter to write you, Dear Editor, their agreement or disagreement!

Problems Of School Directors

Editor, The Daily Record:

In his letter recently printed in The Daily Record, Edward R. Slemmer addressed certain questions to me regarding our schools and the operation of school boards. Mr. Slemmer showed that he had devoted a lot of time and study to this subject, and he has very adequately answered several of his own questions. I will attempt to answer others.

He asks "How much local option did the voters enjoy" in the forming of our Jointure. Obviously none. Why? It is all spelled out in the Public School Code of 1949, School Laws of Penna., Article XVII Section 1701. This is too lengthy to repeat here, but in essence it says that any two or more school boards may combine in a Jointure with merely the approval of the County Board and state Dept. of Public Instruction.

I might add, further, that the above Dept. of Public Instruction has for many years put very heavy pressure on all school districts to force them into some sort of jointure, merger or union. One big pressure was the promise of more money from the state for re-organizing into larger districts.

However, it is my personal opinion that the formation of the existing jointures and the union district in this County was a good thing. It really did make it possible to provide modern, effective, and definitely better educational opportunities for our children.

I do not defend bigness as symbol of good schools, as it seems to be done in Harrisburg. But our jointures and Stroud Union are not really big. They are highly workable units, embracing a reasonable area and population, and are certainly "local" enough so that any interested citizen can follow their workings and participate in the school functions easily if he so desires.

Which brings us to Mr. Slemmer's question about election and-or appointment of school board members. I am not connected with the Barrett Township school district. However, without any research whatsoever, I can guess why certain members of the board, after not running for re-election, or not being re-elected, were nevertheless appointed mid-term to fill vacancies. They were still the only persons willing and able to do the job!

It is a thankless job, and a payless job in most cases. The secretary and treasurer may receive pay but it is nowhere near what they earn or deserve for the time and effort they must put into it. Check up on this if you wish more details.

All school directors today, even in the smallest districts, have a full time job. No longer is it as it once was — when you met once a month, maybe, and settled all problems in an hour or two, Because School Directors today have BIG PROBLEMS. It is big business, And School Boards desperately need the most abe people in every community.

In regard to future Barrett School Board vacancies, I am sure that the Board would be delighted to consider "other fine men and women" rather than someone that has just finished a term — if and when they can find them.

Step forward Mr. Slemmer, if you have nothing to do about two nights a week, if you like to travel at night all over the County regardless of the weather, if you don't mind losing a few friends and being severely criticized by persons you never met — for no pay and little glory. It is an important job and one that must be done.

I challenge everyone to study the school laws that must be followed, and study the work that your school board must do, and then pitch in and help them a little.

And finally I might add that if Act 561 (P.L. 1283) the School Reorganization Law of 1961 is not repealed you can pretty well forget about participation in your school decisions. All local boards will be abolished and a nine man board will run the entire county. And you can bet it will get more political than it has ever been in the past. And you will be paying a bigger tax bill, if that is possible.

Our elected state legislators are the only ones that can kill it this January. Talk to them.

Advanced Mathematics Is Introduced At South Wayne

NEWFOUNDLAND — The introduction of programmed learning in the field of calculus at Southern Wayne Joint School was announced by Clayton Northup, principal, during the November meeting of the school board at which L. G. Grimm presided.

Two senior students, Robert Duty and Joan Bancroft, who are preparing to enter college, have been chosen to participate in the advanced mathematics course with a special programmed textbook. Each of the students works on the course at his own speed, and at his own opportunity. Mrs. C. Allen Edwards is the supervisor.

"This is one way we are able to offer an additional program beyond the regular schedule," Mr. Northup said.

The principal reported that a new ninth grade student, Rocco Bencivenja, has increased the total enrollment to 249. He noted that a course in penmanship has been added in grades three through six. This course was dropped many years ago, when the trend was toward allowing each student to develop his own writing style. Now it is being added to the regular schedule, with emphasis on legibility.

The board approved a request from Marywood College to allow a student teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, to work with Mr. Strupcewski in the music department. They also approved repair of the lawn mower and purchase of a new roller for the machine.

There was a lengthy discussion of the progress of the new Wallenpaupack Area Joint School on Lake Wallenpaupack, and on tranportation, teachers, and other important issues.

Present were Charles Phillips, Claude Butler, H. B. Hutchins, Fred McLain, Lawrence Grimm, Peggy Bancroft, Carlyle Schmalzle and Mr. Northup.

'Shy Guy' Presented At Bangor

"SHY GUY", this year's senior play, was presented to the senior high school student body of the Bangor Area Joint High School yesterday. The three-act comedy by Paul S. McCoy is directed by Mrs. Margaret Rockwell, head of the English department. Mr. Jay Young supervised the set construction, and Mr. Paul Eyer was in charge of the lighting. Organ music prior to the play and between acts was played by Lucinda Lohman.

The young thespians followed the code of the theater that, "the play must go on". Over the past weekend Roslyn Caiazzo, a member of the cast suffered an emergency appendectomy. Kay Hill was recruited and did an excellent job in the difficult role of Melinda Whipple with but three days rehearsal.

Other members of the cast are Brenda Biller, Edward Majka, Robert Mistishen, Brenda Fehr, Betty Godshalk, Larry Cortright, David Longcor, William Lange, Linda Matlock, and Linda Louzader. Beatrice Collins is student director.

The play will be presented for the public tonight in the new Bangor Area Senior High auditorium. Curtain time is eight o'clock.

Area Sailor Undergoing Training

KENNETH F. Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freelan F. Hayes, of Route 2, Stroudsburg, is undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The indoctrination to Navy life consists of physical fitness drills, military drills, basic military law, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments in the Navy.

Box Car Order

NEW YORK (AP)—The Southern Railway System has ordered 500 all-steel box cars from Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co., Bessemer, Ala., at a cost of $8,825,000.

ICC Urged To Block Freight Hike

THE Interstate Commerce Commission and the state Public Utilities Commission were asked today to block any freight rate increases at this time by the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission.

Victor C. Diehm, NPIDC president, said the commission action followed reports that rate increase in the Nesquehoning area are being sought by truckers having rights in the Panther Valley area.

Any freight increases approved by federal and state regulatory bodies will have an adverse effect on regional industrial development, Mr. Diehm said.

He said that he conferred with Harold Brown, assistant administrator for area redevelopment, Small Business Administration, at Washington, enlisting SBA assistance in maintaining a "status quo" on the freight rate front at this time.

Ups Dividend

NEW YORK (AP) — Gibson Greeting Cards, Inc., of Cincinnati raised its quarterly dividend to 30 cents from 25 cents. It will be paid Jan. 1 to shareholders of record Dec. 14.

The Cuban Mixup

Q. I own some stock in what was once a very prosperous company. But the company's properties were in Cuba. They were expropriated when Castro came to power (Perhaps you can give a simple definition of "expropriate." I have yet to see one.)

I am planning to sell this stock in order to establish a loss for tax purposes. I have been advised that if I do sell the stock I should keep my stock certificate. I am told that because I was a stockholder at the time of expropriation I might be entitled to some special consideration when Castro is finally overthrown. Is there even a remote possibility that this might be true?

A. In the crazy, mixed-up and unfortunate Cuban situation, almost anything is possible. But your hopes do seem quite remote.

When you sell stock, your stock certificate is normally delivered to the company's agent. That certificate is cancelled and a new certificate is issued in the name of the person who bought it or in the name of that person's "nominee" —a brokerage firm, etc.

So, how could you sell the stock and keep the certificate?

Also, when you sell stock, you sell your share of ownership in the company and all rights to the company's property to the person who buys your stock. If the company's property becomes more valuable at some future date, the people who own the stock benefit not the former stockholders.

Assuming that Castro will get the boot, there is the possibility that companies whose properties were expropriated will have these properties returned to them or, at least, receive some payment. Again, that will benefit persons who own stock at that time.

However, some Cuban companies declared dividends to their stockholders which were never paid. The money involved was either frozen in Cuban banks or stolen by Castro. There is the possibility at the time the dividends were declared to holders of record of such-and-such a date.

Just what stockholders would be entitled to such payments probably would be determined from the records of the company or its transfer agent.

An easy definition of expropriate is "stolen by a government." Such large-scale larceny usually takes place when a country is taken over by a Communist or some other socialistic form of Government.

Q. Recently, I sold some stock I had owned for quite a number of years for about $2,000 more than I paid for it. I used all the money and a little bit more to buy some different stock. I am now told that I am supposed to report the $2,000 as a capital gain when I file my income tax return.

Is this true? If it is, it's not fair. I never even saw the money or had any use of it.

A. It most certainly is true. You sold stock at a profit. You are required to report that profit as a capital gain when you file your income tax return. It makes no difference that you never "saw" the money. You did have the "use of it." You used it to buy more stock.

Many people overlook this fact that when they sell stock at a profit and reinvest the entire proceeds. Then, as honest (we hope) taxpayers, they have to dig up the money from other sources to meet their tax obligations.

N'fld Rotary Plans Two Programs

NEWFOUNDLAND—Two events are planned for December 7 by the Rotary Club. They are a turkey party at Green's Restaurant, and the showing of a Disney film, "Toby Tyler At the Circus," at Southern Wayne Joint School.

Admission to the film will be one can of canned goods, which will be turned over to the American Legion to fill Christmas baskets for the needy. Homed canned goods are not acceptable.

The Rotarians saw the 1962 Masters Golf Tournament films during their meeting this week at Green's.

Family Fare

by Bobby Westbrook

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Maybe being slightly pixilated runs in families, too: like red hair or big noses or ears that stick out. At any rate, I don't know of anybody else's mother who has started out celebrating her 81st birthday by having her white hair turned gray again by being blown up the cellar steps.

It's not that we do it deliberately. Smelling smoke before breakfast, she went down to investigate, opened the cellar door, and was blown right back against the outside steps by the blast of smoke and flames from a burning furnace. It could have happened to anyone.

Except that most people at 81 are content to let somebody else do the invvestigating. That's why I'm afraid it's hereditary: to act first, and to consider later that it might have been wiser, or safer, or more suitable to ask somebody else to do it.

That and ignoring the limitations of age, size, weight, strength and energy by tackling anything, make for a very complicated existence and some very odd predicaments, besides tending to keep the people who have to live with you slightly nervous about what's going to happen next.

Fortunately, I was alone in my own latest Adventure on the Cellar Steps. In sheer excess of good spirits I went bouncing down instead of walking sedately as proper to my years, and bounced so high on the turn that I hit my head on the steps overhead, knocking myself silly and whatever I had to be so happy about right out of my head.

At least no one else knew about that one. But there was a whole roomful of strangers the time when, visiting a new home for the first time, I saw across the room a friend, started forward with a warm greeting which turned into a sort of a squeal as I pitched right down the two steps into the sunken living room.

There's one consolation: along with impulsiveness I seem also to have inherited bones that don't break easily, a facility for landing on my feet, and the ability to laugh at myself. And another consolation is that while it may be exasperating, embarrassing, and at times painful—it certainly isn't dull.

Miss Linda Tigue Bride Of James H. Frutchey, Jr.

Tobyhanna—Amid a background of white mums and pompons and lighted candles Miss Linda Jane Tigue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tigue became the bride of James H. Frutchey, Jr., at a 4 p. m. candlelight ceremony at the Tobyhanna Methodist Church.

Mr. Frutchey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Frutchey, Sr. Rev. Leighton S. Palmer, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace with long sleeves, high neckline with a Peter Pan collar, and a bouffant skirt of tulle tiers. Her four-tiered veil of hand rolled illusion fell from a double crown of lace and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and ivy with a removable orchid corsage.

Mrs. Sharon Pope was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of powder blue satin peau de soie with an off-the-shoulder neckline, brief sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt trimmed with small bows. She wore a feather pill-box hat with circular nose veil, and carried a semi-cascade of tangerine and white carnations.

David Pope, of Tobyhanna, was best man. Ushers were Carson Tigue, brother of the bride and Melvin Hay, of Tobyhanna.

A dinner for relatives was held at the home of the bridegroom before the newly-weds left for their honeymoon.

The stockings are to be filled with pocket comb, toothpaste, wrapped candy, pencil or ball-point pen, current calendar, wrapped toothbrush or washcloth, 3 by 5 note pad and a gift tag labeled "W.S.G." The stocking project was adopted this year in place of the usual exchange of Christmas gifts among the members.

Role Of Youth In Church Subject Of ULCW Program

Tannersville—"Help Wanted" was the program topic when the November meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women was held at St. Paul's Church. Program leader Edith Brong opened the meeting with Scripture.

Guest speaker was Leo Frailey, local club leader for Youth for Christ, and a pre-ministerial student at East Stroudsburg State College. He discussed what youth can do for the church and what the church can do for youth. What is lacking in the church and is the church meeting the needs of youth? Young people should take a more active part in the life of the church, he said. They should look to the Bible for instruction. All questions are answered in that Book, if we take the time to search the Scriptures.

Mabel Huffman spoke briefly on "How Youth Can Serve." Her main thought was that young folks should be encouraged to help in church work, not on the fringe but in the center of church life.

Luther league members were guests of the ULCW at the meeting.

A question and answer period followed.

Cora Sebring led the offering prayer.

Betty Rowe presided at the business session. A financial report was presented by Sally Newhart.

Cora Sebring reported on the recent meeting of the Monroe County Council of Church Women.

Christian Service chairman Marie Gravatt reported on the current project.

Evelyn Dodd, educational chairman, reminded the members to keep Christmas alive. To keep Christ in Christmas, she urged members to attend worship services, not only on Christmas Eve and Christmas but throughout the entire Advent season; to practice the true spirit of Christian giving — give gifts to others than your family and close friends — give to those from whom you do not expect to receive.

The Christmas Ingathering for Lutheran Church Women of the Easton District was announced. It will be held at the Good Shepherd Church, Easton, on Thursday, December 6th. All local ULCW mmebers were urged to turn their gifts in early.

Mary Strunk was appointed to be program leader for the December 18 meeting. "Peace — Our Responsibility," will be the theme.

Hostesses for the December meeting will be Edith Brong, Virginia Gantzhorn and Karen Adami.

Refreshments were served to thirty ULCW members, five guests, eight Luther Leaguers and Pastor Adami. Hostesses were Esther Peechatka, Marion Peechatka and Shirley Curtis.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Remember the old admonition to "Always keep your powder dry, Boys—keep your powder dry?"—and that other equally important one, "Keep a cool head?" At the present time, there's a new "eleventh commandment" for all those who would be socially secure if not morally pure—"Keep your HEAD hot and dry." The way to do this, of course, is with an electric hair dryer.

A few years ago, I was inclined to consider a portable hair dryer as just so much excess baggage . . . something one could very well do without; a gadget conceived by an enterprising manufacturer for the sake of coaxing a few extra bucks from the gal who simply must have everything. Today I see I was wrong. The electric hair dryer not only appealed to the few, but to the many, and today has become a new American status symbol. EVERYBODY who is ANYBODY owns one. You don't believe me? Ask your teenage daughter. A self-respecting young lady just can't admit to her friends she doesn't own one. Ask her why, and she'll wail, "Because, Mother, a girl NEEDS one — it's something you couldn't possibly understand."

I think I can, harking back to those days when I was a Freshman and every girl worthy of the name had to wear a fraternity pin beneath her bosom. Those of us who had never dated a college man sought recourse in lodge pins. As I recall, I sported rather an impressive collection including a Boy Scout pin I had fast-talked away from a fellow, and a college literary club pin given me by a student minister. The literary club pin was set with pearls and very tiny, but it was the cream of my very impressive crop. When I wore them all I resembled a jeweler's display case. Status symbols! They come and go, and vary from raccoon coats thru record collections to hair dryers. Next year, I imagine, the electric toothbrush (stocked this year at Wyckoff's) will be the thing . . . its popularity is rocketing even at this early date.

Because the hair dryer tops the Santa Letter List of many young ladies old enough to be perched on someone's knee other than Santa's, Wyckoff's is stocking a tremendous number in a wide variety of styles . . . ALL FAMOUS MAKE AND ALL AT DISCOUNT PRICES. You will find them in two locations: our Cosmetic department inside the main entrance, and our small Electrical Appliance department. These are some of the things you will find: In Cosmetics: a perfectly beautiful Schick in a lightweight blue case, now marked 18.99 although we had first ticketed it 22.95. This is complete with automatic nail file and fingernail dryer, and is my favorite of all the styles we show. A Lady Sunbeam deluxe, made to retail at 27.95 and now 19.99 at Wyckoff's. Chic Milady, a cute little dryer reminiscent of a portable radio, at 8.95, which we sold here just a few months ago at 14.95. Also a very smart Sunbeam without carrying case at 13.99 — our original price was 15.95.

In Housewares (Small Appliances): Some stunning GEs. One, without case, at 10.99. Another, in white plastic carrying case, at 14.99. Still a third, designed by Sally Victor with a hood that drips pretty pink petals, 22.98 and another, very similar in design but with a less-dressy hood, 18.99, originally 21.50.

All of them are excellent. I connected several to see if they really have all the temperatures marked on the dials, and they do! Yes, THEY have the temperatures; WE have them — scores of them, but we probably won't keep them long. One man came in yesterday to price them, and returned five minutes later to buy. "I can't do any better anywhere," he said. "so I'd better grab this today!" Why not do likewise?—after all, we don't sell TEAR dryers for those who "miss out."

BUTTER-NUT SNOWBALLS taste so good that you'd better save them until last if you want some left for Christmas Day.

Waving The Pastry Cloth Out Back Signals Start Of Cookie-Baking

By Linda Pipher
Daily Record Home Economist

If you see me in the back of my house waving a white flag, I'm not signaling a secret lover, I'm shaking out my pastry cloth. And these days I'm doing it quite often, as I use it for so many things. In fact I can't roll any kind of dough without it, for just a small amount of flour rubbed into the cloth for the board and the "sock" for the rolling pin makes rolling a cinch.

Every Christmas someone asks me how I get my sugar cookies so thin and crunchy, and I tell them that's the secret. My recipe is probably the same as in any cookbook, but if you've had trouble with them, maybe you would like to try this one. I think the lemon extract helps give them a good flavor.

My Christmas Cookies

Mix together:
1 cup butter (or shortening or margarine)
1½ cup sugar
2 eggs
Stir in:
2 tablespoons milk or cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon
Sift together and stir in:
2½ cups All Purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Chill dough. Take a small amount at a time and roll very thin. Cut into shapes with your favorite cutters. Place on lightly greased cookie sheet. Sprinkle with colored sugar. Bake in 425 oven for 5 to 7 minutes.

When I bake cookies, I work with three sheets. The first I put on the bottom shelf and set timer for half the baking time. When the buzzer rings, I put that one on the top shelf, the second sheet on the bottom shelf, and set timer for remaining baking time. When the top sheet comes out, the second goes to the top, and the third goes to the bottom. Sounds like a circus, but this alternating gives even browning.

The last batch of cookies I make before the big day is the one pictured above in a pretty milk glass bowl. I love them so much that if I make them too early I eat them all myself without offering them even to the family!

Butternut Snowballs
(A rich, crispy cookie)
2 sticks butter (1 cup)
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups finely chopped pecans (or walnuts)
Powdered sugar

Cream butter, sugar, and vanilla until fluffy. Sift flour with salt and add to the creamed mixture, blending thoroughly. Add pecans and mix well. Shape into 1 inch balls and place on baking sheet. Bake in slow 325 oven about 20 minutes. Do not brown. Cool; then roll in powdered sugar. (Cookies may be warm when rolling, but if still hot, sugar will not stick).

To make cocoa-nut balls, add ¼ cup cocoa to recipe. Bake as directed.

Kathryn Wellington called to tell me that she had attended a Visiting Nurse Association Board meeting this week and Olive Williams had brought cookies so good that all the women wanted the recipe. Instead of Olive giving the recipe to each person, they decided it would be far easier to have it printed in this column!

Olive's Toffee Iced Cookies
Cream:
1 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
Add:
1 egg yolk
2 cup cake flour (or scant 2 cups All Purpose flour)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix together and pat mixture with knife on a greased 17" x 11" cookie sheet. Make as thin as possible. Bake in 325 oven for 15 to 20 minutes.

Melt 1 package Break Up Milk Chocolate of ½ pound bar chocolate (sweet) in double boiler. Spread over hot cookies and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Cut into squares when cool.

In between trying to make strikes and not splits at the Elks Ladies Bowling Monday night, Katsy Bachman told me she had a good cookie recipe. During the summer at White Heron Lake, the girls meet on the beach every Wednesday with the children and exchange recipes during the afternoon. This is one she got last summer and it sounds luscious.

Katsy's Butter Chews
¾ cup butter
3 tablespoons sugar
1½ cups flour
3 egg yolks, beaten
2¼ cups brown sugar
1 cup nuts, chopped
¾ cup shredded cocoanut
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Cream butter, add sugar, beat well. Blend thoroughly with flour. Put mixture into greased square pan and bake in 375 oven for 15 minutes or until light brown. Now add brown sugar to beaten egg yolks and blend. Add chopped nuts and cocoanut and fold in beaten egg whites. Pour over baked mixture and return to oven for 25-30 minutes.

No need to get out the deepfat fryer when you want to prepare fried onion rings. Soak the onion rings in milk, drain, dip in seasoned flour and fry in 1-1½ or 2 inches of hot fat.

When your school-age daughter rebels at kitchen chores because they're "drudgery," give her some interesting tasks. She'll enjoy unmolding individual gelatin desserts, frosting and decorating cupcakes and baking drop cookies.

If you want to serve festive holiday fruit drinks in frosted glasses, dip the rims of the glasses in lemon juice and then in confectioners' sugar; put the dipped glasses in the refrigerator for a half hour or so to "set" the "frosting."

Wearing A Hat Lifts Lid To Jobs And Advancement

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

An employer will hire a girl with less skills than he requires if she wears a hat and gloves, employment agency head Adele Lewis, said recently.

Now along comes intriguing confirmation of Miss Lewis' remarks.

A news letter "From Nine to Five" distributed to business girls, published by a business texts company ran a poem about women's hats written by Wilbert E. Scheer, personnel director of a large outfit in Chicago. The company welcomed letters on the subject from office workers. Prizes were offered.

The poem, "Little Petrushka" that started it all was this:

The little Petrushka in frilly babushka
Goes scurrying down the street.
Her manner is pleasant, befitting a peasant
Whose outfit appears incomplete.
In all of her clothing, there really is no thing
That could not be called neat and pressed.
But picking a headdress, her taste suffers deadness;
Her bonnet does not match the rest.
Her money she'll squander on bills quite beyond her
For haircuts and latest hair style.
But why does she manage this hairdo to bandage
In shawls that are so juvenile?
No one would imagine, this immature "Gretchen"
With improper millinery.
This little Petrushka in her drab babushka
Was somebody's secretary.

Winners Janet Garner, an advertising agency secretary, Kay Miles, an executive secretary in New York and Juanita Hinchee of Williamson, West Virginia, all believed the hat was the key to the business girls' success.

Janet told about how everyone on their office elevator was happy when they saw a lady with the unusual hats. Kay, called Hattie because of her great hat collection related how one day she was without one when she met a male employe; He said:. "Don't tell me that you are going to join the others and not wear a hat or join the kerchief brigade?"

Juanita wrote she attracted considerable attention wearing a hat on her job as secretary to a member of a law firm. "I feel my business success came about because I wore a hat to work when I first entered business. . . employers noticed me and began to ask who I was."

Runner-up Anna Lucht of St. Louis quoted a Cockney charwoman, "Life sometimes ain't wot her want, but it's all yer got, so stick a geranium in yer 'at and be 'appy!"

Marguerite Boyles, secretary to a trucking company in Winston-Salem wrote an answer to Petrushka which said in part:

Just between us girls, those cute little curls look sweet 'neath a pillbox neat;
I abhor the 'snook' with the kerchief look that appears to hide a freak!
No guy likes a doll who looks like a moll,
lacking a pretty chapeau;
Men always stick to the pert 'little trick' whose top bears a crown with a bow.
No employer will pick the bare-headed chick
Seeking a job sans hat is sans brain;
And he'll shun the one like the point of a gun
With ears sticking out like a crane!
No boss wants a sec with a pain in the neck
From the weight of a flower bowl
He likes 'Girl - Friday' fully dressed and tidy:
Office lids win-place — not show!

Not A Mirror But A Man Woman's Best Guide

By Jean Sprain Wilson
AP Fashions Writer

New York (AP)—A woman's best guide to looking her best is not her mirror. It's her man.

Of course, this is a man's opinion but Dan Werle ought to know. Hasn't he been helping film stars put their best fashion images forward for more than a decade?

"Men have good taste." The handsome Italian - Irishman's sweeping assertion takes in all husbands and beaux with or without any fashion education.

"They may not have the faintest idea why they like something or why they don't. But they are instinctively right," he says. "If women don't dress for men, they ought to."

As an artistic lad growing up in Chicago, Werle had seven sisters and a devoted aunt (in the custom dress business) who benefited by his personal tastes. Later, as a student of sculpture and figure sketching, Werle was intrigued with body structure and how fabric could be used to enhance it.

While going to school, he made money designing costumes for a night spot. Then, after a brief sojourn to the New York garment district to market his sketches, Werle went west.

Crashing Hollywood

"Barbara Stanwyck and I were talking about this the other night. It's amazing how like breaking into the movies it is to get a break in the design business. Hollywood is difficult."

During his reminiscences, Werle couldn't help smiling like a Cheshire cat. "I won't mention names but there was one man who just couldn't see my sketches. Now that I am well known this man is very hot for my designs."

Werle was about to go to work for costumer Irene when he got the chance to go into a custom design business with a partner. Not long after that, limousines bearing the celluloid queens began to draw up at Werle's. Each week for seven years he created a dress in which Loretta Young could walk through a door on her TV program.

Stars Have Angles

"Stars are such individuals. You have to preserve the image," he says of his clientele. "I never try to put them into anything their public doesn't expect them to wear."

Although his celebrity customers have as many figure faults as the next woman, Werle says he admires them for being smart enough to camouflage, not only with certain styles, but by the way they walk and sit.

With all this star talk, don't for a minute get the idea that Werle's clothes are theatrical, or even California. He's a sophisticated kind of designer who relies heavily on simplicity and New York black. Consequently his fame and his collections have reached across the country to women who never get closer to the stage than the aisle.

Another Ambition

Ideas for his garments often shape up in the quiet of late night in the apartment next to Werle's shop. Just 15 minutes away, on a hillside overlooking Sunset Strip, is his attractive mediterranean style home but he somehow can't find time to get there.

"It's not work," he corrects when friends chide him for working so hard. "I love doing it. It's my life."

One more dream fulfilled will take him full cycle. Werle wants to design for the stage—not night club costumes as he began, but real fashion for a modern Broadway play.

She Found Opportunity As An Older-People-Sitter

By Roberta Fleming Roesch

Exactly a year ago today I talked to a woman named Katie who came to my desk to ask for ideas to fill up some of her time. Her husband had recently passed away and she lived alone with her thoughts.

"I don't belong anywhere any more," Katie told me sadly. "Here I am — in my fifties — with nothing to do but think.

Doesn't Want Job

"I know you're going to mention jobs, but that's not what I want. Not only am I minus training, but I wouldn't like office work."

"What about baby-sitting?" I asked. "That would fill your time without demanding day after day that you show up for a job."

"A hearty 'No, thanks'!" Katie told me. "I'm afraid I've had it with kids. I brought up my own and married them off and that was enough for me."

For an hour we hashed things over. For an hour we got nowhere. Then Katie dropped out of my life for a year until I saw her this week.

Gives Credit

"You'll never guess what I'm doing," she said. "But you were the one who started it when you tried to sell me on sitting as a way to fill my time.

"I'm not baby - sitting, however," she said. "I'm older-people-sitting, instead, because I found all over town opportunities for that."

Many Opportunities

Actually, in almost every community there are opportunities for sitting with older people because, regardless of where you live, there are bound to be homes in your town where older generations are living with younger generations. And when the younger generation wants a few hours out, problems can shake their heads.

For example, some older folks don't like to be — or can't be — left alone. Some need to have meals prepared. Others have to be watched over for the evening and helped to bed later on.

In all of these cases, a capable woman whose heart is kind and whose hands are strong can be an opportunity to both generations as well as to herself.

In a job as an older-people-sitter, there is sometimes physical work involved if the need arises. Most of the time, though, sitting out an afternoon, evening or weekend with people unable to stay alone concerns itself primarily with extending companionship to them and — a most important factor — treating them as adults instead of as children.

Companion And Partner

Occasionally you'll be a companion to them when you join them in a meal. Other times you'll be an opponent for their games or a partner for conversation or looking at TV. All of the time you'll be someone in the house and a wonderful sense of security, should a need arise while the family is gone.

Rates for sitting with older people can be by the hour, evening or weekend. And substantial leads to jobs can come from doctors or clergymen who hear of opportunities.

Arlington Chapel Open After Repairs

The Arlington Heights Chapel, closed for the past two weeks for renovations, will be open for the full complement of services this Sunday.

The worship service will be held at 9:30 a.m. and the Sunday school at 10:45.

Party fare: hollow out small or medium-sized cooked beets and fill with drained bottled grated horseradish mixed with a little sour cream. Delightful with cold sliced beef.

Unruffled Gussie Turns Style Pro For Tennis Wear

New York (AP)—Gertrude Moran, otherwise known as Gorgeous Gussie and the Tennis Temptress, has turned fashion pro.

However, neither a ruffle nor a fluff of lace is anywhere on her brand new line of tennis costumes. Wimbledon officials ought to be relieved to know this.

As an amateur some dozen years ago Gussie's style prowess was so influential that the staid London club hasn't gotten over it yet.

Only recently Wimbledon officials issued fashion ultimatums limiting tennis costumes to white. And three years before that, they barred "anything daring or sensational." Both bans might not have been, if Gussie hadn't appeared there in her lacy britches in 1948.

After that, tennis stars tried to beat Gussie at her own game of fancy pants, even showing up in gold lame or the confederate flag. Even so, the eyes remained focused on Gussie to be sure what the score was in tennis fashions.

Fashion Doubles

With all that, you'd think she'd have turned fashion pro earlier. She did volley the idea around a bit—even wrote a column about it for a tennis magazine. But until last spring sports broadcasting and a few unsuccessful tries at marriage kept her preoccupied. Then Augusta Bullock, a west coast fashion pro, suggested a team.

In a borrowed suite in a swank New York hotel the 38-year-old athlete modestly presents first collection.

"There it is." She waves offhandedly at some white garments in a closet. "They don't look like much on a hanger."

But on Gussie, a little size 8 they look great as she proceeds to bounce in and out of the bedroom like a tennis ball changing from one to another.

Wimbledon will appreciate that her samples are white, although the new sportswear designer doesn't see why they should be, and has more back in the sewing rooms in other hues.

She conforms with such Forest Hills tennis taboos as spaghetti straps and bare shoulders. Her costumes are round or V-necked, sometimes double-breasted and low waisted, and in both long and short skirt versions. Under those short skirts are matching pants with a little gathering at the leg, but no ruffles.

"In all these years you'd think I'd come up with some good retort," says Gussie, swinging her feet in white sneakers onto the sofa. "But I still don't know what to say when people ask me about those ruffled panties."

Pointers For Giving Pearls For Christmas

Planning to give pearls for Christmas?

Here's some advice on the best styles for specific ages:

Teen-ager: The short necklace, called the debutante style, of small graduated cultured pearls is the best way to introduce a young girl to her first piece of real jewelry. And this is a style that can be worn by her in later years as a bib with pearls and other necklaces. The circle pin of cultured pearls is another delicate, sedate design, flattering to a young girl.

Women of all ages: The double strand choker is a prize gift. If she already has one, have a special clasp made, or select from among many on the market which combine delicate pearls with other gems. If the budgeting is really tight, a single lustrous drop pearl on a chain makes a delicate pendant; simple ring with a solitaire pearl, or a single pearl bracelet are appropriate at good prices.

Men: Tasteful cultured pearl tieracks, stickpins, cufflinks and formal shirt studs.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Saturday, December 1

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — A self-possessed, unruffled manner and concise planning, together with a sound investment of time and energies are the requirements of this day. Note where you can improve procedures.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Venus mildly favorable. Romance and artistic pursuits favored. Re-examine your long-range projects and put them on a business basis.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Mercury urges more spark to whatever your work and assignments; also to bring others' attention to your efforts. Smart ones are doing it every day. Your wits and plans can shine.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Mighty splendid aspects throughout for an enthused you — with your mental sharpened and desires properly directed. But do not be so hasty that you make foolish errors.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You, too, share many new opportunities and benefits offered today. Concentrate on study, careful approach, discreet speech and well organized plans. Possibly a new trend in the offing.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Better than a "plain" day, yet ordinary in many respects. Growing dissension must be abated. You will be expected to lend an able share of responsibility. Be adaptable.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Sponsor a new undertaking if it sounds like it could produce. No better day for promoting, advertising, pressing forward to better things.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Mars' aspect now urges you to be tenacious in application, constructive in plans. Method and flexibility both needed. Radiate cheer and others will follow suit.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Losses are never as bad as they seem. You may not be feeling any, but if they occur, take them (and anything irksome) with a philosophical view: You will grow, expand.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Saturn portends the possibility of too-quickly formed opinions, incorrect judgments. Don't retreat, however, when forward action is needed.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Personal matters may trouble you. Review them calmly, completely. Perhaps you are over-emphasizing certain angles to your detriment. Let nothing depress you.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — School activities, higher learning, practicing skills, hobbies and pastimes of a healthful sort especially favored. BUT in everything, watch for the "tricky" spots, misleading avenues.

YOU BORN TODAY belong in a sector of vigor and artistry, showmanship and to-the-point methods. Your words, writings may tend to the unusual, be picture-phrased. Your mind is keen. At times you answer sharply, too frankly. You can succeed at one matter and be thinking up another, yet here again will be the temptation to ride over others as you strive for the top rung. Many renowned states o e n were born in this sign, and poets.

The brilliant evening star is a symbol of many things to many folk. Mariners hail it as a good omen, for it usually forecasts a clear, calm night and smooth sailing. The shepherd tending his flock on a desolate hillside gratefully notes its appearance in the heavens, for its friendly light offers an intangible sort of companionship during his lonely vigil. To many, the star is representative of God's infinite power and wisdom.

Just as this star touches hearts in countless different ways, so may the Church bring to those in all walks of life, peace and comfort which lead to a happier, more fruitful pattern of life.

Let us make the Church our guiding light. We can brighten our lives if we accept the teaching of the Scriptures as guideposts along the pathway to future endeavors.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Army-Navy Is Rated Even In Annual Military Game

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Creative, controversial Paul Dietzel sends hungry Army against confident Navy Saturday in a football game rated a tossup but which will measure the success of his first year as Army's coach.

Army hired Dietzel away from Louisiana State specifically to end Navy's three-star mastery over the Cadets. His West Point final examination begins at the 1:30 p.m., EST, kickoff at Philadelphia Stadium, watched by President Kennedy, 100,000 other spectators and a national television (CBS) audience.

"Only A Victory"

"I'll be happy only with a victory," Dietzel said Friday as both teams held light signal drills for the game scheduled to be played in sunny, 60-degree weather.

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin, who was sold by Dietzel on three-unit substitution when the latter was at LSU, has promised the Midshipmen they'll crush the Cadets even more decisively than their series record high 43-12 in 1959.

"We are going to break that record," Hardin vowed. He can become the first Navy coach ever to win four straight over Army.

Breaks Precedent

President Kennedy, ex - Navy hero, will break precedent by walking to midfield to toss the coin before the game, sit on host Navy's side in the first half and cross to join Army at intermission.

Both coaches are masters of the gimmick and psychological warfare.

Hardin has used such things as brilliantly colored helmets and mottos printed on jerseys for added incentives and is guarding the secret of still another set for Saturday.

Hardin says Dietzel is the biggest gimmick man of all with his "Chinese Bandits," the prideful defensive specialists whose "esprit de corps" (Dietzel label) has helped the Army mentor rebuild Cadet confidence for the big battle.

Sees Surprises

Both men are likely to spring more surprises. But basically the game is a test between fired-up ilubs pitting Navy's pro-type, pass-minded attack and the slower, more punshing Cadet ground game.

Navy (4-5) has the edge in speed, variety of attack and strength of previous opponents. Army (6-5) has the better record and defense. The squads are equal in size and Dietzel hopes he has lifted Army morale to the heights of Navy's.

Last Big Saturday Of College Football

Army and Navy stir up staid Philadelphia, Southern California attempts to nail down the national title and other teams will settle backyard championships in Saturday's windup of the regular college football season.

The Cadets and the Midshipmen will be joined by President Kennedy for their annual invasion of Philadelphia Stadium. Both academies have been whipped into a frenzy of enthusiasm for the service clash.

Seek Title

Across the country, the Southern California Trojans, ranked No. 1 in the country, are out to grab their first national championship since 1939, in their 34th meeting with traditional rival Notre Dame.

The rest of the program includes closing action for national powers Mississippi, Alabama and Oklahoma, all within their state boundaries.

Mississippi, No. 3, is a big choice to close out an unbeaten season against Mississippi State; Alabama, No. 5 with an 8-1 slate, is favored over Auburn and Oklahoma, No. 8 and Big Eight champion gets the nod over Oklahoma State.

Other Contests

In other cross-state contests, Georgia meets Georgia Tech, Tennessee is at Vanderbilt, Rice at Baylor, Florida at Miami in a night game, Texas Christian battles Southern Methodist and Holy Cross faces Boston College.

Virginia travels to Rutgers, UCLA to Utah and Cincinnati to Houston in other closing games.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Eastern title will be settled between Northern of South Dakota State (10-0) and Lenoir Rhyne (9-0) at Hickory, N.C. The winner goes against Central Oklahoma State in the Camelia Bowl for the NAIA national title the following week.

A crowd of 101,000 is expected to join the President for the service clash in Philadelphia. This is the nationally televised game — CBS, 1:30 p.m., EST.

Presides At Toss

Kennedy will preside at the coin toss at midfield. Last year saw the Cadets absorb their third straight defeat by the Middies. Army (6-3) hired Coach Paul Dietzel to stop this sort of thing, and he and the Chinese Bandits will be out to contain Navy's quarterback, Roger Staubach. Navy is 4-5 on a rougher schedule than Army played.

Army leads 30-27-5 in the long series. The clash is rated a tossup.

TD Favorite

The Trojans are a touchdown favorite to collect their 105h straight without a loss and cement top ranking. No. 2 Wisconsin—the Trojans' Rose Bowl foe—wrapped up its season a week ago with an 8-1 mark, including a 17-8 triumph over Notre Dame.

Southern California has looked shaky in its last two victories, 13-6 over Navy and 14-3 over UCLA, and with the Rose Bowl bid already in its pocket could suffer a letdown against Notre Dame.

The Irish (5-4) are riding a string of four straight, over Navy, Pitt, North Carolina and Iowa, with Daryle LaMonica improving every week at quarterback.

Takes Steps To Speed Up Games

NEW YORK (AP)—The major leagues turned down a proposal for an inter-league trading period in mid-June Friday and took action to speed up the game.

The smoke-filled room department produced only a handful of minor deals.

Giles Re-Elected

Warren Giles, president of the National League since 1951, was re-elected for his fourth four-year term. No details on salary were announced. He received $50,000 a year under the old contract.

Both majors rejected the suggestion by Ed Short, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, that the leagues have a three-day inter-league trading period June 13-15 each year. Inter-league trading now is permitted only from Nov. 21 to Dec. 15 and that was regarded a daring precedent-shattering move when it first was legalized two years ago.

Five - Throw Limit

To speed up games both leagues will limit the pitchers to five warm-up throws, instead of eight, although the American will permit eight for the first 30 days of the season. The National League will permit a manager to make only one trip to the mound per inning to talk to his pitcher. On the second trip the pitcher be removed. In the American League a manager must take out a pitcher the second time h egseo to the mound in a game. Both leagues will require the pitcher to take his place on the on-deck circle while waiting to bat and the American will require the catcher to report on-deck without catching equipment.

In the trade mart, the San Francisco Giants came up with second baseman Joey Amalfitano, an old friend who was a bonus baby with the Giants in 1954 and 1955. Amalfitano came to the Giants from Houston for left-handed pitcher Dick LeMay and outfielder Manuel Mota.

Braves Get Larker

Milwaukee obtained first baseman Norm Larker from Houston in exchange for pitcher Connie Grob and outfielder Jim Bolger, who were on the Braves' Louisville roster last year in the American Association.

The main business at Saturday's joint meeting already is practically settled. The two majors have to go through the formality of approving the new player development contract that will underwrite at least 100 minor league clubs. The minors approved the plan in Rochester Thursday.

Transfer of the Cleveland franchise to the new group of owners, headed by William Daley, chairman of the board, and Gabe Paul, president, was approved by the American League.

Sanders' 67 Leads In Golf Open

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., grabbed the lead at the halfway point of the 72-hole $20,000 West Palm Beach Open Golf Tournament Friday, carding a 5-under-par 67 for a 137 total.

Playing in the same twosome, Joe Campbell of Perdido Bay, Fla., shot his second straight 69 and trailed Sanders by one stroke.

Rod Funseth of Spokane, Wash. who was tied for the first round lead, fell off to a 73 but was still high up in a five-way tie for eighth place at 141. Butch Baird of Galveston, Tex., who shared first place with Funseth, shot 74 when he found himself in a number of traps with bad lies. That gave him a total of 142.

IT WAS IN THE CARDS — Pocono Mountain Cardinal Co-Captains Alan Young (left) and Neil Fritz, gladly accept Old Oaken Bucket from Pleasant Valley Co-Captain John Kresge in ceremonies yesterday at Pocono Mountain High School auditorium. Marty Baldwin, manager of Olympic-Athletic Reconditioning, looks on at ceremonies. Pocono Mountain won second annual Thanksgiving Day game, 12-0, to even series between schools.

Four Juniors On All-East Grid Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Rick Leeson, a 195-pound junior halfback, and teammate Paul Martha, considered two of the top football prospects ever to play football for the University of Pittsburgh since World War II, led a contingent of four juniors Friday on the 1962 Associated Press All-East football team.

Leeson and Martha were joined in the backfield by Dartmouth's Bill King and Penn State's Roger Kochman. King and Kochman both are seniors.

Leeson, from Scott Township, Pa., averaged almost five yards a carry for Pitt in 1962, picking up 481 yards in 104 carries.

Also Kicked

Used sparingly as a pass receiver, he caught four for 74 yards and did some of the Panther's extra point and field goal chores.

He kicked nine conversions and three field goals and wound up with 32 points, including two touchdowns and a two-point conversion.

Martha, a converted quarterback, joined guards Harrison Rosdahl of Penn State and Dick Nowak of Army as the other juniors. Nowak, normally a center, was rated as one of the finest all-around linemen in the East, and is a top linebacker.

Four Penn Staters

In addition to Kochman and Rosdahl, Penn State's Lambert Trophy winners also had end Dave Robinson and tackle Chuck Sieminski on the first team, while Dartmouth also landed center Don McKinnon.

The All-East second team included Syracuse ends John Mackey and Walt Sweeney; tackles Lou Ciocl of Boston College and Charlie Johnson of Villanova; guards Joe Blasenstein of Penn State and Dave Meggysey of Syracuse; center Jon Morris of Holy Cross and backs Gary Wood of Cornell, Pete Liske of Penn State, Billy Joe of Villanova and Harry Crump of Boston College.

The third team included end Ron Allshouse, Penn; guard Jim Irwin, Pitt; and back Joe Iacone of West Chester.

Honorable mention included tackles Ernie Borghetti, Pitt and Siegfried Molnar, Penn; center Bill Hardaker, Penn; and backs Ron Giordano, Bucknell and Larry Glueck, Villanova.

Trojans Uneasy For N.D.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notre Dame's football team, riding a winning streak of four games, arrived on the scene Thursday for the 34th battle in its long and colorful series with Southern California's top-ranked, unbeaten and untied Trojans.

Upward of 80,000 are expected for the game in Memorial Coliseum Saturday, most of them pulling for the Trojans to finish the season with a perfect record and the mythical national championship.

There is a little uneasiness in even the most ardent Trojan rooter, however.

Not Superb

The men of Troy were something less than superb in their games with Navy and UCLA the past two weeks.

The running attack, which bowled over stout Washington, was not consistent, and the passing of the alternate quarterbacks, Pete Beathard and Bill Nelsen, was off target.

Disappointing, too, was the effort in the pass catching department of the Trojans' highly bally-hooed end, Hal Bedsole, who dropped two throws and fumbled the ball away on another against UCLA.

Hit Their Peak?

The pessimists suspect the Trojans may have hit a peak in the important Washington game Nov. 3.

Coach John McKay, basking in national prominence in his third year as boss of the Trojans, agrees that the team's No. 1 rating and unblemished record are inviting targets from any opponent.

And Notre Dame, a traditional rival, poses problems no matter what the circumstances might be.

But McKay agrees with others there has not been a real letdown in the recent weeks.

For one thing, Navy came up with a one man riot in its sophomore quarterback, Roger Staubach, and McKay and company were happy to get out with a 13-6 victory.

UCLA? It is a tossup, in recent years, as to whether Notre Dame or UCLA is the greater enemy to Southern Cal's peace of mind.

Hasn't Slipped

Marv Marinovich, the Trojans' rugged right tackle, emphatically does not believe the team has slipped since Washington.

"The team hasn't gone back," Marinovich insisted. "You can't really get up for every game. We knew we had to beat certain teams and we put more effort into those games.

"We know we're going to have to be up against Notre Dame. The coaches say that physically they're the best team we'll play.

AAU-NCAA Verbal War Grows Louder

DETROIT (AP) — The AAU blasted back at the NCAA Friday as their verbal war for control of track and field in the United States grew louder.

Expected fireworks at the AAU convention's track and field committee meeting failed to materialize, however. Coaches Chick Werner of Penn State and Don Canham of Michigan, leaders of the dissident, NCAA-supported U.S. Track and Field Federation, stayed outside the meeting.

Instead, they met behind closed doors with Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive director, and Tug Wilson, head of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

A workable solution—seemingly so near two weeks ago when the AAU and NCAA agreed on a coalition—now appeared nowhere in sight. The bickering, which jeopardizes U.S. track strength in the 1964 Olympics, has lasted 2½ years.

"Their understanding of the coalition is so different from ours we feel we cannot swallow the federation and coalition," Hull said.

Pleasant Valley Loses Inaugural

NEWFOUNDLAND— The Pleasant Valley Bears, winners of only one game last season, got off on the wrong foot in their opener here against Southern Wayne last night as they fell by a score of 60 - 48.

However, it was a final-period bombardment by the host club which hit the nets for 26 points which enabled Southern Wayne to grabe the victory. They outscored the Bears of Coach Bill Frear by 12 points in that final canto—and that was the margin of victory.

Bears Take Lead

The Bears got off winging with a 7-4 first-period lead, and upped the count to 23-19 halftime lead in a livelier second-quarter of play.

It was the shooting of Pleasant Valley's Jon Rinker and Ken Bowman who set the pace for Frear's squad and kept the Bears ahead for the most part in a seesaw battle for the lead.

But Southern Wayne continued to keep hot in the second half with Bob Duty, Joe Olsommer and Larry Keiter hitting consistently from the floor and knot the count at 34-all at the end of three periods.

Big Gun

Duty proved to be the big gun in Southern Wayne's attack, dumping in a game total of 23 points to top both clubs in that department. Olsommer connected for 14, while Keiter added 11 for the winners.

For Pleasant Valley, Rinker was the high scorer with 16 points while Bowman closely followed with 15.

In the junior varsity tilt, Southern Wayne won in a romp by a 50-20 count.

State Rests Bribe Case Against Two

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The state rested its case Friday against two St. Louis men charged with bribing North Carolina State basketball players to throw games or shave points. The defense offered no evidence.

Final arguments also began and indications were that the case would go to the jury early next week, perhaps Tuesday.

Judge Heman Clark dismissed more than half the charges against the two defendants, Dave Goldberg and Steve Lekometros, both of St. Louis, Mo., because of insufficient evidence.

Total 32 Counts

However, 18 counts remain against Goldberg and 14 against Lekometros. Each carries a maximum prison term of five years.

Goldberg, described by the prosecution as a top backer or money-supplier in basketball fix arrangements, and Lekometros, pictured as his key lieutenant, originally had been indicted on 39 charges each.

The counts charge conspiracy to bribe and actual bribery.

In connection with dismissal of the charges, Judge Clark told the jury not to consider any testimony offered by North Carolina State College Coach Everett Case and two New Yorkers, Louis Barshak and Michael Seigel. Barshak and Seigel had pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to similar charges and then appeared as state witnesses.

Charges Dismissed

Testimony from all three dealt with a game between State and Georgia Tech. "That testimony relates to charges in the bills of indictment that I have dismissed," the judge said.

Judge Clark dismissed the counts after a long conference with opposing attorneys. He threw out all the charges relating to two of the nine games the men were accused of tampering with. They were the North Carolina State-North Carolina game of Feb. 17, 1960, and the State-Georgia Tech game of Dec. 17, 1960. He dismissed all charges against Lekometros connected with the Duke-State game of Jan. 7, 1961.

Government Files Suit Against C. S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The federal government filed Friday a $1,174,084 tax suit against Championship Sports Inc., promoters of last September's heavyweight championship fight between Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston.

The claim was directed against income from the live gate receipts at Chicago's Comiskey Park, plus the take from closed-circuit theater television.

Liston won the title from Patterson with a first round knockout.

Also named a defendant was Graff, Reiner and Smith Enterprises Inc., as Nevada concern which had a contract with Championship Sports covering television rights.

On the day of the fight, Sept. 25, Internal Revenue Service agents seized $1,379,517 in closed-circuit television receipts from the bout.

The frozen $1,379,517 is now held by the IRS in Manhattan.

The suit claimed the money actually is the property of Championship Sports and should be applied to taxes purportedly due from the organization.

Knights Rout Northwestern

PEN ARGYL — Geoffrey Rader bombed the nets for 25 points for the Green Knights of Pen Argyl here last night as the Green and White romped over Northwestern's Tigers for a 62-44 opening-game success.

The Knights got off to a slow start, hitting for only eight points in the first period to trail the visiting Tigers, 15-8.

But with Rader and Dave Turtzo — who tallied 17 for the winners — hitting the cords consistently, the Knights dumped in a total of 18 points in the second canto to grab a 26-21 halftime lead.

Ahead To Stay

Bob Enger, who scored but five points for the Knights, actually put the homesters ahead for keeps on a three-point pay to break a 21-21 tie and give Pen Argyl a 24-21 lead. Roger Snyder then followed with a layup on an assist by Engler at the half.

The Knights' combined a blistering offensive with a tight defense to start the third period and put the game out of reach of the fast-fading Northwestern-ers.

With Rader and Turtzo setting the scoring pace, the Knights put on a blitz while the Tigers failed to connect from the floor during the first three-and-a-half minutes of the quarter. Pen Argyl swooshed the cords for 22 points while Northwestern garnered but 12 for a commanding 48-33 lead entering the final session.

Complete Rout

Pen Argyl also outscored the Tigers in the final period by a 14-11 margin to complete the rout.

Snyder also got into double figures for the winners with a 10-point spree as he, Rader and Turtzo combined to tally a total of 52 of the team's 62 points.

In the preliminary JV clash, Pen Argyl emerged triumphant with a 41-38 verdict over the Tiger cubs.

Texans May Pass Over OSU's Baker

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Texans are expected to pass over Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State Saturday when they open the American Football League's annual draft of college players. The Texans may choose a lineman.

That was the indication Friday on the eve of the draft in which the Texans find themselves in possession of two No. 1 draft picks while hapless Oakland, which hasn't won a game all season, won't get a chance to pick until the sixth round.

Dallas got Oakland's No. 1 choice in September in exchange for quarterback Cotton Davidson, and the Raiders also traded off their other top four picks. Under league rules, teams will draft in order of the season record. The Texans' 9-2 mark is tops in the AFL and Oakland is lowest.

NFL Draft Monday

The rival National League will hold its draft Monday in Chicago.

Indications are there will be 25 rounds of selections instead of the scheduled 30. All clubs except Denver favor the cut-down and the Broncos also are expected to agree.

Halfback Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State, center Dave Behrma of Michigan State, tackle Jim Dunaway of Mississippi, end Pat Richter of Wisconsin, end Tom Hutchinson of Kentucky and, of course, the talented Baker, are among the "blue ribbon" boys on the draft list.

But AFL owners also have been talking about fellows like Junious Buchanan, the 247-pound tackle from Miami of Ohio, and William Richardson, 200-pound end from Jackson State of Mississippi.

Steer Officials Set To Resign

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two officials of the Kansas City Steers said Friday they were prepared to resign in protest over the signing of a collegiate star by the Philadelphia Tapers of the American Basketball League.

Coach Johnny Dee and Mike Cleary, vice president, said the signing of Bill Chmielewski of Dayton University was unethical as well as a breach of the league's constitution.

Chinese Lettering Greek To Army

All Psychological In Service Series

By MR. PIGSKIN
Daily Record Grid Analyst

WAYNE HARDIN, the Navy football coach who has come up with more gimmicks than a Hollywood press agent, will hit Army today with another psychological setback when the Middies clash with the Cadets at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

According to our "submarine" submerged in the Navy locker-room, Hardin will unveil to the expected 100,000 and a National television audience of 2,000,000:

1. Uniforms with the names of the Navy players on their backs; and

2. Chinese lettering on equipment.

Offset Bandits

What the wordage will mean our informant wouldn't hazard a guess. But it is supposed to offset the Chinese Bandits, Paul Deitzel's Army defensive wizards, and the "coolie" hat attire of the Corps of Cadets.

Deitzel has used the "Chinese Bandits" and "coolie" system to good psychological advantage at Louisiana State and Army. The Bayou Tiger elevens and Army team of Deitzel seemed to have gained momentum with this version of psychological football-fare.

Hardin hopes to counteract this spirit of the corps today with his own comeback via names on the jersies — pro football uses it — and the Chinese scrawlings on equipment.

Fluorescent Helmets

Wayne, who was a student last year at the Olympic Reconditioning Athletic Equipment's football coaches clinic at East Stroudsburg State College, stunned Army last year in their classic by putting fluorescent-type helmets on his backs and ends. Hardin also dressed his team in practically the same uniforms when they played Boston College University not too long ago.

It will be interesting to see if Hardin follows through with his "surprise" today at the South Philly oval. The insiders say he will.

While on the subject of football, here are some forecasts that could turn out true. While the reports have not been confirmed officially, the scuttlebutt says all of the data has a chance to become a reality before the new year is not to old.

Switch For Munn?

First, Biggie Munn, athletic director at Michigan State University, is supposed to have the inside track on the athletic directorship at his alma mater, Minnesota. There is an opening in the Gophers den and Biggie, who incidentally is not on the best of terms with Duffy Daugherty, the Spartans grid boss, is working overtime for the Minnesota post.

Will Daugherty get the Michigan State directorship? No. That is supposed to go to Forest Evashevski, who is presently athletic director at Iowa.

Duffy To Irish?

What about Duffy? Well, the word goes that he will take over Joe Kuharich's job at Notre Dame.

Who will take Duffy's head grid position at Michigan State? Dave Nelson is destined for the spot if Evashevski gets the Spartans athletics head post. Nelson and Evvy have collaborated on football books and are friends of long standing.

In fact, Evashevski used Nelson's famed winged-T when he was turning out top elevens at Iowa.

Where does Kuharich go? Back into pro football, the ouija board predicts. Kuharich is slated to get the Los Angeles Rams (National Football League) top coaching job.

It sure is a complicated switch. But it all sounds reasonable. Let's see how it fares out..

'Harassment' Sends Liston To Chicago

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston and his wife, Geraldine, packed their bags and moved to Chicago Friday because of alleged harassment by Philadelphia police.

Liston watched truckers load the family furniture and other household goods and commented:

"We're leaving because I think the people of Chicago will accept me better than they did here."

Two Reasons

The champion said he chose Chicago for their new home for two reasons. He and his wife have relatives there, and Mayor Richard J. Daley invited him to work for the city.

"I'll work on the youth committee, helping kids, making appearances and speeches, doing exhibitions to raise money for them and things like that," Liston said. "I don't know if a salary goes with it, but it won't make any difference if there isn't."

In Chicago, Mayor Daley said: "I don't know a thing about it."

Officials of the Mayor's Commission on Youth Welfare also said they were mystified by Liston's apparent reference to that agency.

Liston said he had been approached unofficially on the subject and that he had offered his services if wanted.

On South Side

The Listons, who left by airplane, said they would live in a hotel for a few days until their furniture arrives. Then they will settle in a rented house on the South Side, not far from Comiskey Park, where Liston last Sept. 25 won the heavyweight title from Floyd Patterson with a first round knockout in 2 minutes, 6 seconds.

Liston, who came to Philadelphia in 1958, after signing Pep Barone of Allentown, Pa., as his manager, has had three encounters with the law here. He was arrested for corner lounging, later for allegedly stopping a woman in Fairmount Park, and again for driving too slow in the same park.

He was acquitted or discharged in each case. He said police were harassing him.

Operate On Shoulder Of Cincy Star

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sophomore Ron Krick will undergo a shoulder operation during the Christmas holidays and will definitely not play for the University of Cincinnati basketball team this season, a team spokesman said Friday.

The 6-foot-3 Pennsylvanian sprained his left shoulder while reaching for the ball in practice a couple of weeks ago. He had sprained the same shoulder in the same way during a freshman game last year.

Krick, who broke Wilt Chamberlain's high school scoring records while attending school at West Reading, had been slated to take the place of center Paul Hogue, who graduated in June after leading the Bearcats to two NCAA championships.

Australia's Swim Greats Win Medals

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Australia's two swimming greats, Murray Rose and Dawn Fraser, each won their fourth gold medal of the British Empire Games Friday night as the Commonwealth athletic festival neared its end.

Rose, 24, a graduate of the University of Southern California, breezed to a 60-yard triumph over countryman Bobby Windle in the meet record time of 17:18.1 for 1,650 yards, 7.1 seconds slower than John Konrads' world standard.

Miss Fraser, a 25-year-old fashion supervisor who won her first Olympic gold medal in 1956, easily annexed the 440-yard freestyle in 4:51.4, 2 seconds slower than the Games' record held by another Australian, Ilsa Konrads. Miss Konrads was second in 4:55.0.

Bob Kennedy Picks Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who engages in touch football as well as legal matters, ventured predictions Friday on the outcome of three Southern football games scheduled for Saturday. His predictions:

Ole Miss to beat Mississippi State.

Georgia to beat Georgia Tech.

Alabama to beat Auburn.

He also threw in an extra prediction for the benefit of one newspaperman. The additional prediction:

Navy to take Army.

TRAINER Jim Fritzsimmons has received credit for saddling eight winners of the Wood Memorial, feature spring race at Aqueduct.

Tarzan-Like Setting For Davis Cup

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MADRAS, India (AP) — Eight thousand spectators will watch the Davis Cup interzone tennis finals between India and Mexico starting Saturday while perched on crude wooden planks tied by hemp rope to towering poles made of casurina trees.

The stadium for this blue-ribbon spectacle of international tennis is something right out of Tarzan's jungle.

It was erected in 10 days by 40 coolie laborers — chocolate-colored Indians in their own version of bikinis — fashioning an arena with their bare hands, a little lumber some rope and a few nails.

Primitive Setting

Never has a Davis Cup match been played in a more primitive setting or one more picturesque or, for all its spine tingling appearances, more free from hazard.

"These stands will be completely packed when Ramanathan Krishnan, a hero in Madras, takes the court Saturday," said M. A. M. Ramaswami, secretary of the organizing committee. "These wooden stands will hold like stanchions of steel."

Krishnan, the pride of Madras, plays Mexico's No. 1 ace, Rafael Osuna, in the second singles match after the opener between Joydeep Mukerjea of India and Antonio Palafox of Mexico.

The crude, weird-looking stands stretch 18 to 20 rows in the air, forming a perfect oval.

"The entire stands cost us less than $3,000," said one official. "Not a machine was used."

High Income Families Show Unbridled Enthusiasm for Newspapers

Nearly everyone in town reads a daily newspaper. Among the heaviest readers, according to a survey by the Psychological Corporation, are upper social-economic urban families. Another study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture found middle and high income groups were heavier newspaper readers than low income groups. This survey showed 73% of the low income group said they had read the newspaper, while the score increased to 88% for middle income groups and 95% for high income groups. No matter what service or product you sell, no matter what income group you want to reach, you reach more people through the daily newspaper.

It's a small wonder!

A model airplane kit, a razor blade and a tube of glue are the necessary raw materials. Combine these with the dexterity, determination and desire of a young boy and you have the makings of a model airplane. To view the finished product you would agree, he is a small wonder. Another small wonder is a Daily Record Want Ad. Small in size, it is capable of performing big tasks when it comes to selling no longer needed items around the home. Call 421-7349 today and a friendly ad-taker will be happy to assist you in wording your ad. Then you'll agree, a Daily Record Want Ad is truly a small wonder.
